work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," but they were content to be dull Jacks. We, the modern generation, are not. We believe in mixing business with pleasure.
Our primary purpose is to secure an education we'll be proud of — one that will help us climb to the very top of the ladder to* success. But, we also believe in having a good time while we do it. School would mean nothing to us without the clubs we belong to, without those few minutes we spend before and after school greeting everyone.

To the seniors, who, no doubt, treasure the most memories, we dedicate this book (and we think they are tops in spite of the fact that their pictures appear last). May they never forget the experiences they had as the hands went "Around The Clock At Thornton Fractional."

These Men Work

Conn has made his sixth round of the building the lights are dimmed a little mouse peers out of his hiding place and thinks the school forsaken he creeps out but lo and behold!

The front door is taken by storm — the counter-clockwise men bustle in burdened with problems of every nature.

The echo of wedding bells rings out once more from the Home Ec Department, and the bewildered board is frankly up a tree. How can they find an efficient, yet not-too attractive instructor? One who will not forsake us for wedded bliss? How can the students be kept off the grass? How can they keep us supplied with enough pink passes? Worry, worry.

A glance at the clock reveals that they have toiled until the wee hours of the morning. In a short time the first bus from Lansing will unload and the building will be a scene of hurrying-scurrying students.

They heave a sigh, only partially satisfied with the solutions they have reached. A motion is made to adjourn, and the weary members part company until the first Friday of the next month.

We Arrive with Mr. Kikkert

The sun is barely peeping over the hilltops as the 7:25 Lansing bus rounds the last corner and pulls into the school parking lot. The door opens and a group of "early-to-bed, early-to-risers" tumble out and are bade farewell by the beaming smile of Mr. Kikkert, who in turn goes back to pick up and deliver the second load of students. In due time, the 7:45 and 8:00 buses arrive with the punctuality of a ship schedule.

Our rural residents are now "docked" and so they flee to the bandroom for haven. Should a Calumet City student arrive on the scene, he would observe a sight to behold. First and foremost are the intelligentsia brushing up on their Latin and algebra, in another corner we find a party of boys engaged in an enchanting game of pinochle, and to our left is a petite miss busily crocheting a snood. Still others may be found resorting to tempting, juicy gossip, while a beauty salon occupies all other available space.

Mr. Nelson finds refuge in a corner at 8:05 as a

Miss Dora Harthun, Office Secretary, and Mr. A. V. Lockhart
Superintendent

surging tidal wave of students floods the staircase as they make their way to their lockers. His job is finished, so he too deserts the bandroom.

The tardy bell has rung and the straggler drags into the office to heckle an excuse from Miss Klucker, whom he finds speaking to Miss Schmidt about T. B. consent slips. Deciding that he might as well be comfy while he waits, he settles down on the bench futilely searching for a soft spot.

Mr. Miller and Mr. Leonard stroll in together admiring a new text book, but at the same time wondering whether the student can afford it.

At this moment Superintendent Lockhart interrupts Miss Harthun for some dictation. Terrible to be eavesdropping, but didn't he address it to an Assembly Bureau? Hope we have another snake charmer

We've heard a lot about the English classes lately—let's stroll along with the kids and visit some of them.

ENGLISH

Back: Helen Brazzill, Clyde Blanke, and Alta Stauffer
Front: Sigrid Moe, Alice McKeehan, Lois Heigl, Vivian Abraham.

English is the Basic Subject

The 8:25 bell warns the noisy crowd to scurry to their home room, for alas, being tardy again may mean detention and the "what again" lecture of Miss McKeehan, the teacher in charge.

Finally the stilled halls are broken by the abrupt ringing of the 8:30 tardy bell, at which time school resumes.

First of all let us visit some of the English classes of the seven teachers who teach this important basic subject.

Without them we'd never learn our P's and Q's about verbs, nouns, adjectives, etc. Without them Poe, Longfellow, and Bryant would be just names.

Heads of the various departments have been appointed this year by Mr. Lockhart and at the head of the English Department is Miss Alta Stauffer, who is assisted by Mr. Clyde Blanke, who also has freshman debate, Miss Lois Heigl, Miss Sigrid Moe, Miss Helen Brazzill, who also has Girls' Chorus, Miss Alice McKeehan, and Miss Vivian Abraham, who is full-time librarian.

First of all let's visit Miss McKeehan's peppy English class consisting entirely of boys.

Second row: Edward Skarwacki, Roy Cirrubbil, Thomas Bastion, Frank Winebrenner, George Teresko, Clarence Walerczyk, Eugene Sobczak, Frank Tabor-ski, Edward Keck, and Robert Kasper.

Miss Moe's sophomore English class looks inviting.

First row: Doris Schutz, Dorothy Tews, Lilian Schutz, Mary Conley, Jean Regnier, Bonnie Weyand, Lorraine Clayton, Helen Nowak, and Gertrude Hillegonds.

Second row: Virginia Fedosky, Nelda Berger, Elizabeth Hesselbarth, Rita Strand, Lydia Rickman, Delphine Podraza, Mabel Lehmker, Corinne Tarras, Marcia Spoerner, Phyllis Hillbrich, and John Farr.

Third row: George Whitmire, Tommy Shaffer, Roosevelt Sidote, Harry Clair, Gerhard Kekelik, Albert Wahlgren, Edgar Thedens, John O'Hail, Charles Cullum, and Dean Culp.

Miss Moe has another class of beaming new freshmen.

First row: Richard Brown, Leonard Stanislawski, Milton Van Drunen, Thomas Trembaczynski, Jack Miller, Donald Petersen, Carl Sciackitano, and Lloyd Moore.

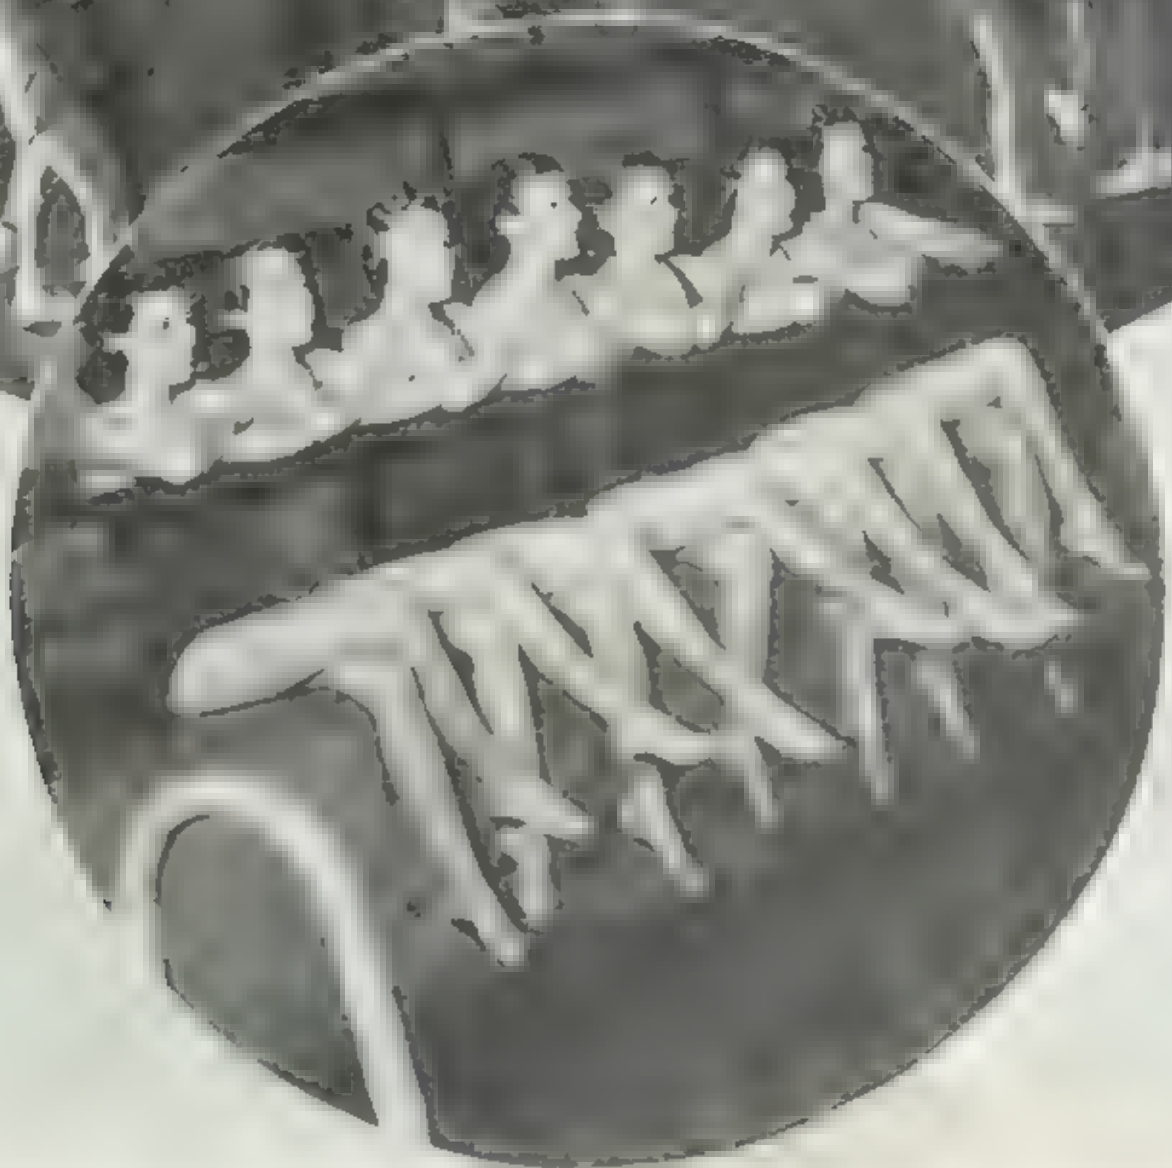

Second row: Sylvester Augustynek, George Jones, Walter Gralak, Robert Gralak, John Walters, Leonard Miotke, Elmer Sabol, and Oscar Schultz.

Third row: Jean Vanderaa, Ann DeVries, Margie O'Brien, Lorraine Klisurich, Geraldine Coles, Marie Cole, Reathiel Evenoff, Hazel Broomhead, Joann Ielsecker and Wanda Idec.

Fourth row: Patricia Smolen, Anna Mae Cewtna, Anna Van Krimpen, Doris Recker, Betty Buhning, Lorraine Knuth, Eileen McLaughlin, and Phyllis Alward.

Fifth row: Frank Reppa, Wallace Cosgrove, Glenn Strauser, John Peterson, and Clarence Nowaczyk.

Physical Ed Offers Variety of Sports

Mr. Kelly, the boys' swimming instructor and coach, has a sophomore gym class at this time which we can visit:

From exercising to dancing, as we journey on to Miss Shematis's gym period of sophomore and freshman girls. Besides being girls' athletic director, Miss Shematis is the cheer leaders' coach, sponsor of the Terrapin Club, and she directs the dance routines of T. F.'s annual Carnival.

First row (going around clockwise, starting at post): Sophie Januk, Louise Sikorski, Norma Urbanski, Rose Soltwedel, Nellie Swieringa, Betty Ann Rappe, Ruth Haehnel, Dorothy Romberg, Helen Ciastko, Lilhan Scziglak, Constance Gulotta, Buena Stubbs, Bernice Magdziak, Anne Nixon, Vera Schmidt, Cora Zyla, Joan Buchler, Florence Godlewski, Audrey Eenigenburg, Mathilde Fried, Emily Wojcik, Sally Kolsut, Lucille Komarowski, Dorothy Lucito, Irene Laitar, Gladys Reeves, Jean Boldenow, Frances Swienconek.

Noon time is fast approaching, so let's take a dip in the cool clear water of the pool with these sophomore girls:

Evelyn Dabich, Jane Albinia, Faye Sausaman, Lila Martin, Dorothy Barth, Shirley Blackburn, and Clarice Kobeszka.

The physical education department here offers many opportunities for a variety of sports, besides those mentioned. At the head of this department is Mr. Wilbur Petree, the heavyweight football and intramural coach. There is heavyweight basketball coached by Mr. Aitkin Young; golf by Mr. Raymond Elvin; G. A. C., by Miss Adeline Jaacks, who is also the financial adviser of the CHRONOSCOPE and THORNTONIAN, and head of all ticket selling.

The coach of this year's South Suburban Lightweight Champs, and senior class sponsor is Mr. Jackson Kiester; the wrestling coach is Mr. Henry Potts.

Allan and Lambka Teach Math and Latin

MATHEMATICS AND LATIN

Frank Allan (top) and Harvey Lambka

Mr. Harvey Lambka, T. F.'s own "Mr. Chips," is the understanding and amiable teacher who has charge of loading the buses everyday. He is also responsible for the Carnival King and Queen elections every year. Above all, he is the teacher that makes this sophomore Latin class so much fun:

First row: Evelyn Van Til, Marilyn Crane, John Padjen, Austin Arens, Edward Harthun, Richard Plumpowski.

Second row: David Borowski, Nina Cusick, Clara Lamb, Francis Jones, Bill Kaluf.

Third row: Richard Wytrzymalski, Harvey Dean, Myrl Larrance.

Fourth row: Eugene Annen, Russell Lehnhoff, Wilfred Kraegel.

Fifth row: Wayne McNullin, Harold Perkins, Wilbur Blair, Walter Jenkins, Joan Clark.

Sixth row: Billy Gibbons, Kenyon Tweedell, Richard Keller, Sophie Sarros.

Next we think of freshman Algebra and Mr. Allen, the fast talking debate coach. The bewildered freshmen who try to grasp the solutions of many perplexing problems are:

First row: Lorraine Kooy, Dolores Yarek, Esther Walters, Loretta Barzda, Ruth Janich, Evelyn Thompson, Blanche Bellamy.

Second row: Marion Tortoriello, Florence Polka, Blanche Jansen, Hazel Nammunga, Laura Marshall, Phyllis Nordaker.

Third row: Alvin McWilliams, James Bielat, Alfred Price, Herman Baxter.

Fourth row: Herman Ulandowski, Robert Minneman, Jacob Koenes, James Koontz.

Sitting: Vernon Massoth, Herman Ridder, John Grych, Edward Kuhlman.

This sophomore class, we agree is, on the whole, quite intelligent.

First row: Stanley Dembowski, Leonard Panfil, Edwin Schab, Phillip Adamkiewicz, John Yonke.

Second Row: Stanley Zwier, Alfred Wisowaty, Sigmund, Dobrowolski, Frank Taborski, Eugene Brinkman, Vernon Gruhlke, Robert Carey, Renald Biesboer, William Kortenhoven.

Third row: Helen Van Osten, Rita Rzepczynski, Helen Yurek, Pete Bereolos, Benny Jarchow, Milton Gaither, Leonard Rompca, Leo Zimmerman, Leonard Kuzikowski, Tom Lauerma.

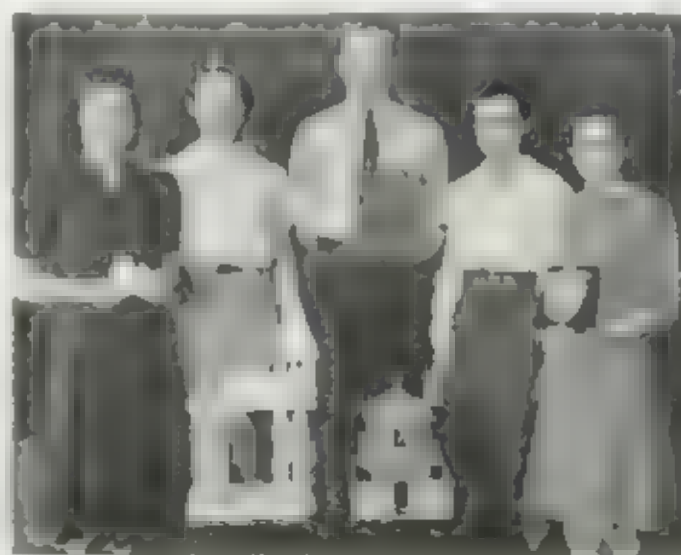

Fourth row: Norma Jean Lorenz, Wilene Steinkraus, Loretta Wawrzyniak, Genevieve Szymanski, Margaret Zimmerman, Adam Hauck, Evelyn Kaleta, Jimmy Giglio.

Fifth row: Louis Galik, Jerome Jaaniak, Walter Raasch, Herman Koenes, Tom Polus, Cologer Monestere, Alfred Ollrich, Robert Planer.

From 8:05 till 4:00 p.m. they came; students rushing to see the best exhibit of Latin projects that has ever been assembled. All through the week of May 13-17 in room 218 could be seen temples, chariots, war machines, and carvings, all miniatures of 2000 years ago.

One dollar prizes were awarded to the winners picked by Miss Moe, Miss Schmidt, and Miss Temple.

Commercial Studies Taught Efficiently

And now we enter the Commercial Department, at the head of which is Miss Wahnetah Brummett, who is assisted by Mr. Young, Mr. Potts, Miss Anna Schmidt, also dean of girls, and Mr. Petree.

These are the sophomores who have enrolled in Mr. Potts's bookkeeping class:

First row: Donald Evert, Lorraine Godlewski, and Arthur Barth.

Second row: Carmella Sisco, Marie Lorenz, Janet Bobak, Mary Gabrich, Irene Borowski, Beatrice Kats, Rudolph Premetz, Jean Ostrowski, and Phyllis Hawkins.

Third row: Stanley Sonnenburg, Elayne Bussema, Genevieve Potocki, Patricia Stapley, Paul Jones, Dick Le Breton, Vada Winski, Leonard C. Vick, Orest Cortopassi, and Wilham Decamp.

Fourth row: Betty Brakebill, Frances Genovesse, Theresa Valle, Lorraine Krisko, Stephany Kurdela, Kate Jansma, Jessie Czerkas, Lottie Stoklosa, and Evelyn Wielgos.

Fifth row: Gertrude Magdziak, Arline Weidig, Virginia Kiehan, Lilhan Sikora, Catherine Sriver, William Martin, Robert Frevert, Edmund Godlewski, James Carlson, and Clarence Maciejewski.

This group of sophomore lads have general business with Mr. Petree:

Standing: Jack LaNoue, Mario Mansueto, Robert Redman, Sam Laich, Daniel Heintz, Jack Sweatt, Joe Stephenson, Michael Pryor, Richard Kessler, and George Eggebrecht.

Sitting: Dominick Vitale, Charles Brown, John Cipolla, Paul Lindner, Henry Lelito, Harry Peaker, Edward Edblad, Martin Rach, Donald Zimmerman, Erving Wiening, Edward Schutz, Edward Solczak, James Lietzan, and Wendell Trammel.

The freshman girls who enrolled in business training after they found out Mr. Young taught the subject are:

First row, going up: Margaret Abate, Marian Schutz, Gertrude Dobis, Gertrude Cipowski, Gloria Leff, Alice Merchant, Ruth Crowder, Nora Snyder, Louise Bergeron, Dorothy Carrubba, Helen Mowatt, Rella Rex, and Marie Olszewski.

Social Sciences Broaden Views

When did Columbus discover America? When did Washington cross the Delaware? Who were the signers of the Constitution? How can you be a good citizen? Do you know the answers, students? If not just ask your social studies teachers.

Mrs. Ruth Hale Canaga, Honor Society Sponsor; Mr. Arthur Smith, Mr. James Leonard, assistant principal and dean of boys; Mr. Bruce Miller, manager of the books store, Mr. Angus McPhail, dramatic coach and director of the cadet band and orchestra, Mr. Raymond Elvin, faculty representative at N. E. A. meeting, and golf coach.

Mr. Miller keeps this an alert freshman commercial geography class. (top picture) First row: Dorothy Planer, Dorothy Reed, Mary Hanev, and Eleanor Romeszewicz.

Second row: Annette Sertic, Helen Jenkins, Violet Mackowiak, and Helena Pactwa.

Third row: Marion Ellens, Dorothy De Vries, and Edward Konar.

Fourth row: Delores Lukowski, June Oberla, Lillian Hudzik, and Jeanette Klein.

Fifth row: Joanne Serahni and Helen Madziak.

Sixth row: Lorraine Jagodzinski, Mazine Olson, and Marjorie Nowak.

Seventh row: Marjorie La Londe, Frieda Krumm, and Jean Kikkert.

Eighth row: Doris Fuehrmeyer.

The reason this class of mid-year freshmen looks so pleasant is that they have Mr. Smith as their civics teacher. (middle right)

First row: Mary Ann Carrow, Ann Marie Olsen, Kay Mangiaracina, Gerald Ward.

Second row: Patricia Regnier, John Koshman, Louis Madalon, Joan Van Lunningham.

Third row: William Olson, Tony Wojcik, Virginia Barth, and Lucila Lorenz.

Fourth row: Mary Lou Hadu, Genevieve Miniuk, Marilyn Newell, and Veyon Boyd.

Fifth row: Eugene Czerwinski, Harold Spannan, Glen Van Der Aa, and Richard Benson.

Sixth row: Walter Bauer, Arthur Jeannette, Natalie Rose, and Calvin Jansen.

Seventh row: Chester Idec, Robert Overmeyer, John Borowski, and George Cummins.

Another group of freshmen enrolled in a social science subject are (middle left):

SCIENCE

Standings: Jackson Kiester and Samuel Frey
Seated: Katherine Brazzill and Adeline C. Jaacks

Some students don't find fish, worms, and grasshoppers very pleasant but when biology is taught by Miss Adeline Jaacks and Mr. Jackson Kiester, they don't seem to mind them at all. Chemistry with its experiments and formulae is easily understood under the able direction of Mr. Samuel Frey, who is also the Photography Club sponsor.

All the students at T. F. should be in A-1 condition after Miss Katherine Brazzill finishes telling them how to keep their bodies healthy in their physiology classes. Miss Brazzill is also an accompanist for the Girls Chorus.

The present project of this sophomore biology class is to get a leaf collection.

Third row: Gertrude Rybarezyk, Dorothy Fanta, Betty Dobbins, Lillian Sobczak, Adelaide Miller, Millard Barker, Gerard Modjeski.

Fourth row: Florence Ratajczak, Paul Strauser, John Stahl, Nell Slamkowski, Ida Serahn.

Miss Brazzill doesn't find this freshman physiology class hard to conduct.

Genial Pedagogues Teach Science

First row: Jack Sims, Donald Zentz, Arthur Ollrich, Edwin Jarosz, Albert Coughlin, Janet Searles, Abby Alvs Abblett, Barbara Gilbreath, Florence Lynn

Second row: Tom Stachowicz, Paul Buchanan, Bill Freyman, Guy Walter, Robert Maurer, Mildred Havling, Thelma Hoggatt, Geraldine Quick, Eleanor Brumm.

Fourth row: Herbert Carroll, William Miller, Robert Chipps, Gilbert Dykhuisen, Andrew Kaminski.

Biology and Mr. Kiester? What else could these sophomores ask for?

First row: Evelyn Hunter, Dorothy Krieger, Peggy Cunningham, Helen Bergeron, Ellen Broomhead, Carolyn Klimek, Dorothy Howard, Dorothy M. Jacqueline Jones, Emma Peters, Verne Kraay, Doris Barton, Violet Wiersma, Stella Pawlak, Eleanor Zick, Harriet Drabek, Vivian Sadowski, Madeline Gumbel, Joe Bellamy, Russell Buhring, Robert Long, Alfred Kaleta, Joe Laich, Archie Ross.

Evidently a section of sophomores who found that snake assembly fascinating are:

Second row: LaVerne Bonomini, Phyllis Gibbons, Alyce Leasure, Betty Baxter, Ruth Mayer, Marie Mayer, Geraldine Lewandowski, Alma Sausaman, Evelyn Thompson, Genevieve Brown, Bessie Peck.

Third row: Mickey Augustyneck, Joe Lendabarker, Leslie Liesenfelt, Sam Sidote, John James, Karl Lindner, Arthur Barnett, Kenneth Compeau.

Practical Arts Train Hand and Mind

And girls, there are always things you must learn about sewing, cooking, home managing, and art, and you boys should be able to tell a spark plug from a piston so if you're not up to part on these things see: Mr. Fritz Nelson who also has charge of lockers and all locks and keys throughout the building, Mr. Lawrence Luce, Miss Frances Spohn, Miss Helen Temple and Miss Doris Stewart, who is also cafeteria manager.

Art is loads of fun as can be seen on the bright faces of these sophomores:

First row: George Seifert, Ray Borgman, Nellie De Vries, and Jack Matthews.

Second row: Glenn Lums, Sarah Jane Ogden, and Regina Sadowski.

Third row: Mary Schopn and Shirley Brophy.

Fourth row: Lillian Horst, June Anderson, and Marv Sabados.

Busy as a bumble bee, these freshman girls hum away on their machines:

First row: Dolores Leszczynski and June Eckstein.

Second row: Gloria Gaddo, Doris Bell, Olga Gocko, Loretta Fancher, Grace Eggebrecht, Margaret Heim-buck, Louise Jordan, and Patricia Dermody.

Third row: Mildred Lange, Dolores Glick, Bernice Magdziak, Dorothy Kamradt, and Esther Fazio.

Fourth row: Winifred De Vries, Betty Lontz, Margaret Klekot, Lucy Malone, and Agnes Dombrowski.

Fifth row: Betty Jane Schau, Virginia Plys, Rita Miotke, and Dolores Miller.

Sixth row: Elaine Stahl, Angeline Cimity, Marcella Theisen, Anna Winiarczyk, Lorraine Bandura, Lois Cederholm, Rose Denenburg, and Kay Mangiaracina.

The hour of fun, no time to waste in this freshman class in woodshop: (going up the rows)

First row: Walter Jeka, Bruno Malczewski, Leonard Drewenski, Earl Leasure, Herman Debus, and Anthony Bailey.

Second row: Bill Johnson, Clarence Kaleta, Raymond Koshman, Johnny Vezmar, Jack Groth, Bill Stewart, Raymond Czerwinski, Irvin Fleming, and Richard Janovick.

Third row: Russell Erfert, Joe Preissig, and James Morgan.

At the close of the morning classes, we think we'd like to see what Mr. Nelson and his freshmen boys are doing in mechanical drawing:

PRACTICAL ARTS

At Back: Fritz Nelson

Standing: Doris Stewart, Lawrence Luce, and Helen Temple

Seated: Frances Spohn

First row: Edward Kolodziejski, Clarence Ziemkowski, Tony Maniscalco, Chester Walerowicz, Herman Pranger, and Bernard Wojciechowski.

Second row: Frank Ruda, Charles Dickus, Richard Siegfried, Clarence Jeka, Arnold Dekker, Alton Zwier, and Cornelius Ritsema.

Third row: Clarence Pike, Fred Goddard, Herman Lucas, Chester Mazur, Chester Kuzdrowski, and Marshall Van Schouwen.

Fourth row: James Bellamy, Charles Wright, William Archer, and Frank Finck.

Fifth row: Harry Clair and Archie Dluzak.

IN MEMORIAM

PATRICIA ANN DERMODY |

AUGUST 10, 1925 — JANUARY 11, 1940

*She passed away like morning dew
Before the sun was high;*

*So brief her time, she scarcely knew
The meaning of a sigh.*

11:30 — 1:30

We Eat and Meet Some Hard Workers

When the 11:30 bell rings the grand rush for the cafeteria begins, and rushed for time are the cafeteria assistants, who under Miss Stewart's competent supervision manage to put forth a quantity of wholesome nourishing food that will satisfy the student body.

These workers, Bob Goff, Leonard Pawlowski, Jean Olson, Helen Gortat, Frances Nowicki, Ethel Hauck, and Alice Benson, follow a routine schedule during the year with laboratory hours thus receiving double credit for their work. No specialized routine is followed, but one group attends to salads, or desserts, steam table, candy counter, milk and ice cream section, or the accounting and bookkeeping.

During the noon period and after school Mr. Frey's assistants are kept busy in the laboratory, getting supplies, making solutions and working out experiments.

Walter Barber hands a flask to Gladys Leedy, while Don Murrin fills out the withdrawal card. Kenneth Eenigneburg reaches for a carbon tetrachloride for Lois Bauer. Alice Deakun is next in line.

The equipment of the alchemist consisted of mortar and pestle, retort, and oil burner. Don Murrin, Frank Keller, Walter Barber, Lois Bauer, Alice Deakun, and Gladys Leedy look at these tools and reflect on how times have changed.

At noon everyday in 221 the crack salesmen of Miss Jaacks may be seen checking in their money and tickets. The outstanding salesmen, who sold tickets for all athletic events, dances, and school movies, and every affair at which a ticket was needed, include: Billy Stewart, Dick Lebreton, and Mike Zarowny; Middle row: Jeanne O'Connor, Rita Strand, and Joann Clark; Bottom row: Anita Bohling, Kay Sarros, and Elvera Frank.

Every day from 12 o'clock to 12:30, room 126 is a scene of great excitement. Three boys are busy making posters advertising coming school events such as the Christmas Concert, Carnival, News Hawks Hop, Athletic events and the Spring Concert. The boys who make these posters are: James Hackenburg, Chester Buffington and Alfred Hoertz.

Dermody Calls a Monogram Club Meeting

The Monogram Club meets at 12:05 in room 108 whenever Mr. Petree, sponsor, thinks it necessary. This club is composed of all boys who have earned major letters. The boys act as monitors at all school assemblies and also gave a big dance this year on February 3.

Top row: Frank Rucinski, Edward Coughlin, Jim Anderson, Rudy Buckner, Ray Kmak, Mickey Augustynek, Mack Budzowski, Archie Ross, Steve Sertic, Frank Keller, Paul Radziewski, Joe Eby.

Fifth row: Francis Jones, George Rushin, Bob Brinkman, Clyde Lawrence, Dick Curtis, Andy Molnar.

Fourth row: Robert Sausamann, Arnold Zimmer, Eugene Ollrich, Louis Tereba, Iene Haehnel.

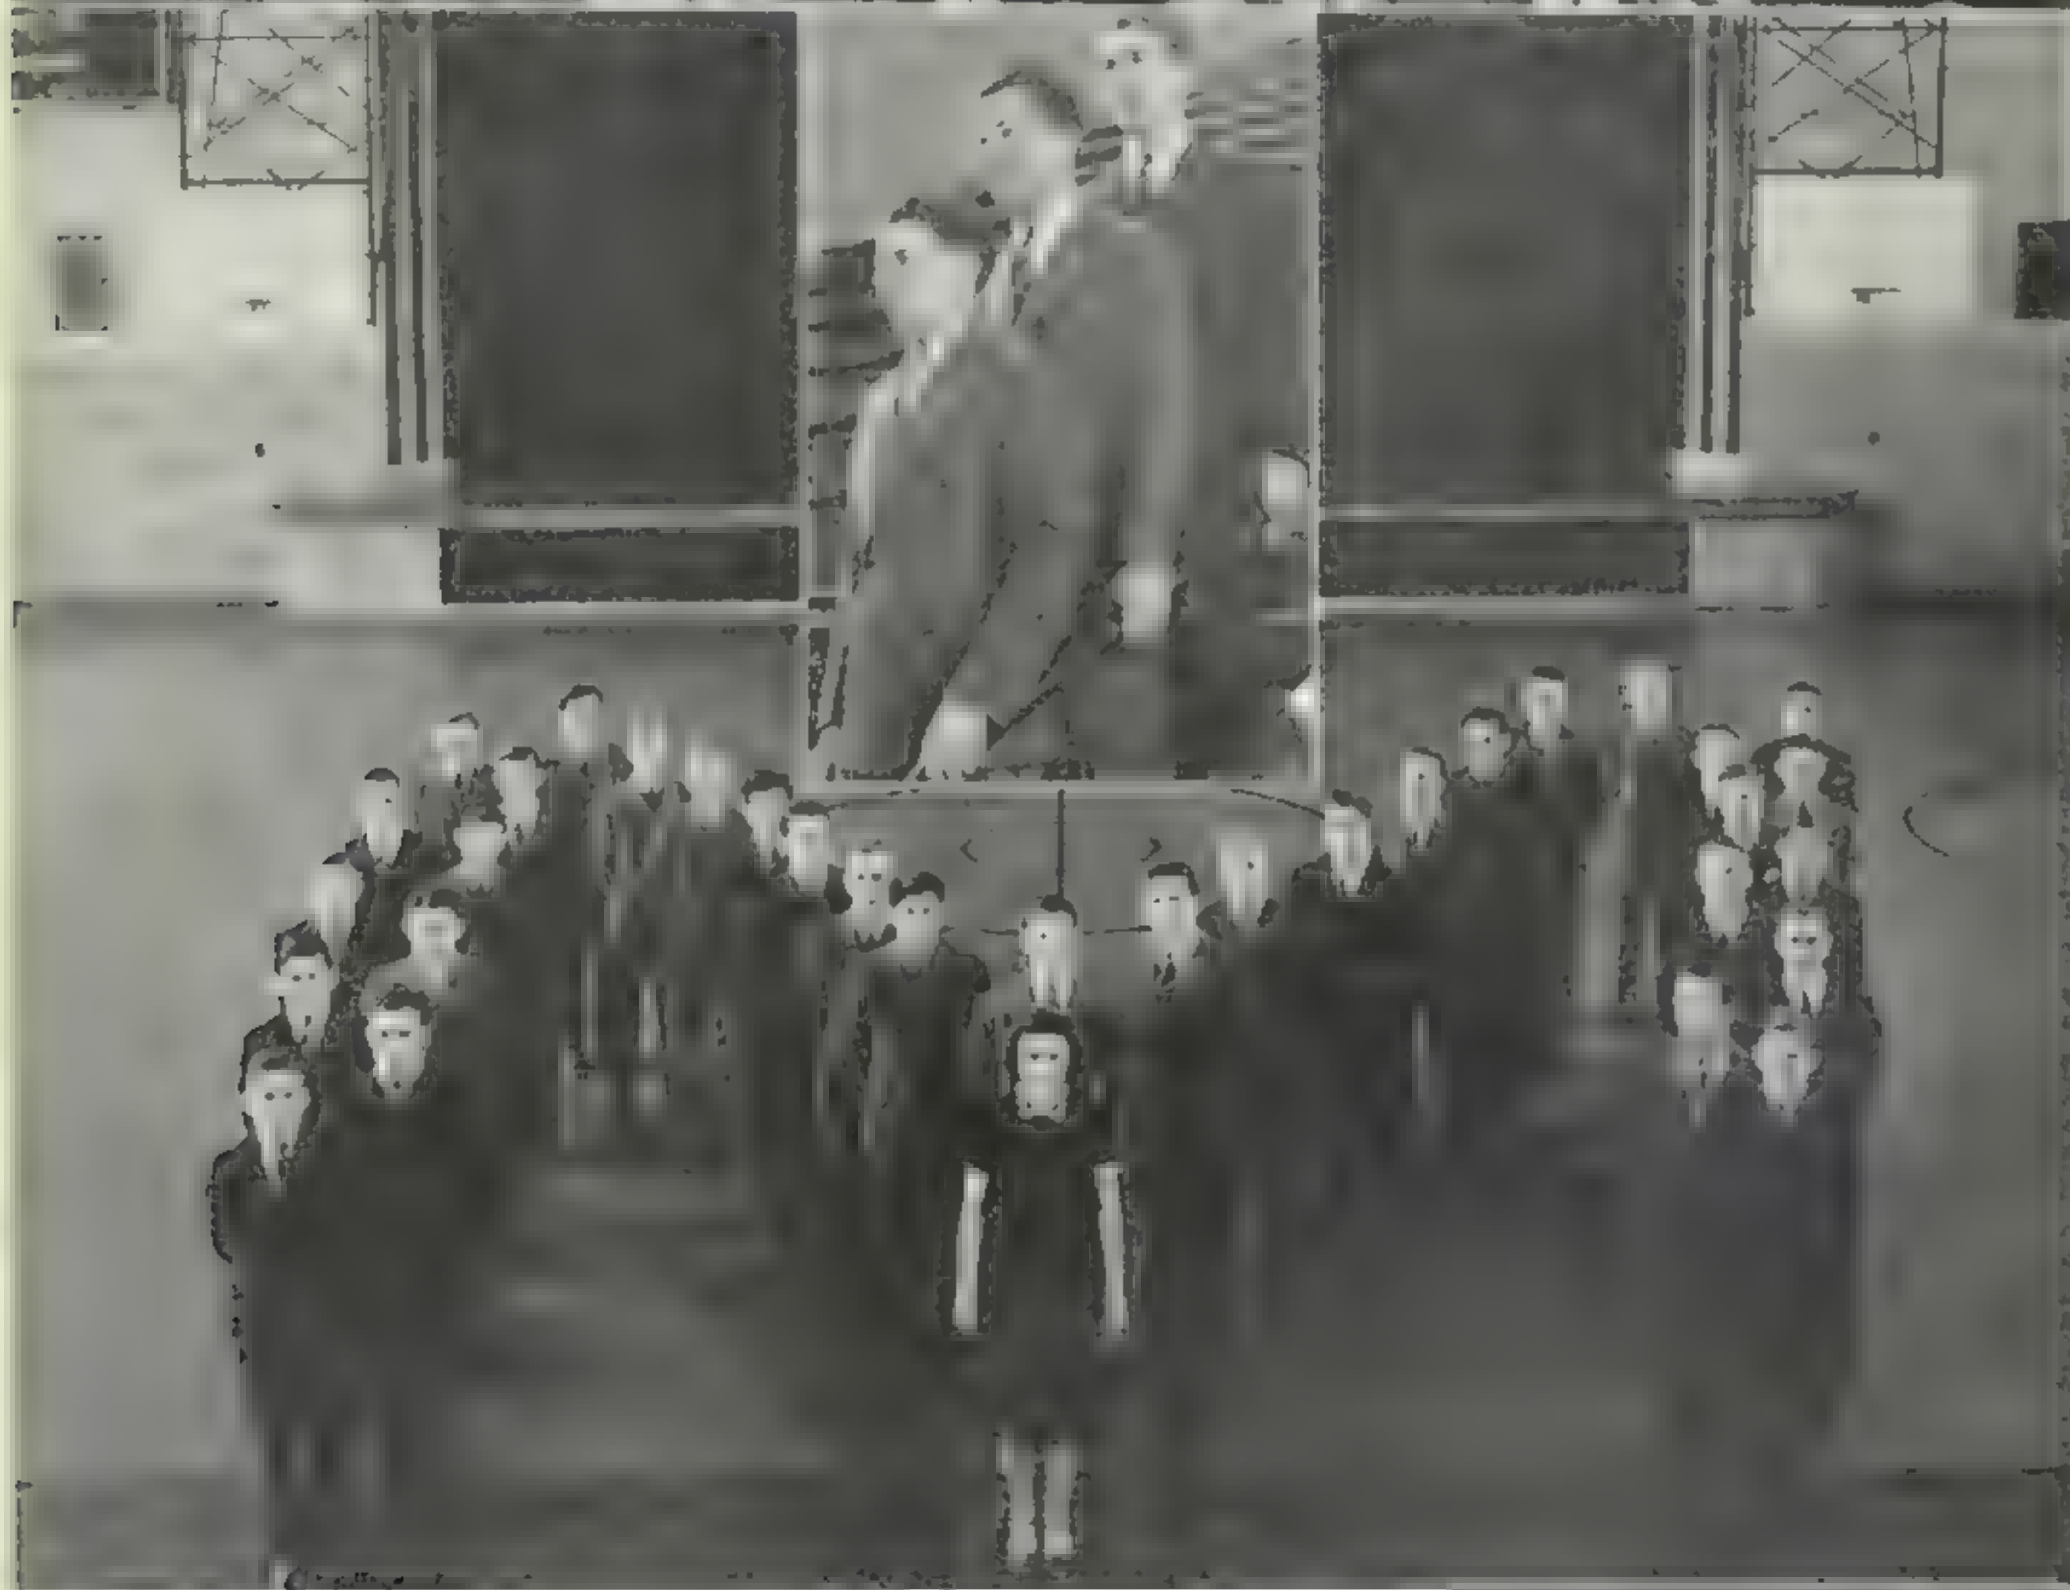

Third row: Elmer Szczepinski, Marvin Kedrowski, Sid Eby, Leader Thaldorf, Chet Buffington, Bill Korupinski.

First row: Bud Thompson, Edward Stokes, Dick Dermody, Donald Archer.

Officers (in insert): Dick Dermody, president; Donald Archer, treasurer; Bud Thompson, secretary; Elmer Szczepinski, sergeant-at-arms.

Not in picture: Eugene Coyle, Vernon Frey, Eugene Schultz, Bill Fuehrmeyer, Andy Petriska, Joe Pawlak, Wilbur Coles, John Padjen, George Whitmore.

They Sing Between 11:30 and 12:30

From 11:35 to 12:00 sweet strains come floating through the doors of the big gym. Yes, the Girls' Chorus is practicing and sweet music they make, too, with Miss Helen Brazzill directing and Miss Katherine Brazzill playing the piano.

Each girl in the organization has tried out before a group of judges picked from the chorus. No freshman girls are permitted to try out.

The appearances included the Christmas Concert, Graduation, Carnival, and various school assemblies. Each year the senior girls of the chorus sing Christmas carols at Minas's.

Third row: Patricia Willis, Evelyn Liesenfelt, Virginia Fedosky, Virginia Sulicz, Lois Bauer, Mildred Lammering, Marie Couwenhoven, Violet Wiersma, Helen Bergeron, Betty Schneider, Lonath Giovingo, Dorothy Lucito, Doris Barton, Nelda Berger, Wilene Steinkraus, Betty Woodburn, and Betty Anne Rappe.

First row: Lillian Kmatz, Loretta Kohler, Virginia Smith, Betty Railey, Orletta Gindl, Annette Arkin, Muriel Anderson, Elizabeth Lewandowski, Margaret Feigenbaum, Corinne Mickey, Virginia Lewandowski, Lucille Konvalinka, Bernace Jacques, Mary Johnston, Jeanne Lauerman, and Ruth Bock.

Ten o'clock in the evening and still there's a line! Just look at the people streaming into Old Heidelberg at the Carnival!

Beer bottles with candles glittering on red and white checked table cloths, a gleaming bar with shining glasses, waiters rushing madly about in Tyrolean costumes, hearty voices of the Meistersingers ringing out to the beat of the German band.

These same Meistersingers, who made such a success of Old Heidelberg, practice at 12 o'clock sharp. They have sung at assemblies, at the Christmas Concert, and at a program of the Calumet City Woman's Club.

Starting at the left of the M, which they form standing on the gym floor, we see: Johnny Yonke, Edwin March, Gerald Frevert, Cono La Loggia, Harold Perkins, Richard Ebert, Frank Sickles, Leonard Pawlowski, Paul Radzieski, Don Stein, Vincent Mack, Fred Green, Eugene Annen, Kenneth Preble, Jack Chipps, Charles Johnson, Wayne McMullin, Barbara Wright, (accompanist), Edward Stokes, Adam Wandrowski, Ellsworth Sherrow, Donald Felsecker, Leonard Ault, Richard Nordaker, Allan Franke, Kenyon Tweedell, Frank Hill, Jack Riota, Joe Terre, Robert Rentner, Leader Thaldorf, Edward Swanson, George Wartman, and Stanley Dembowski.

When the clock strikes 1:00 in a day at Fractional, it strikes a chord for diverse enjoyment to the girls in the double sextet, who begin their rehearsals at that hour.

Director of the organization is Mr. Angus McPhail, who bases his selections on quality of voice and the ability to carry a part.

The girls sang at the Christmas concert, at the Lion's Club banquet, and several times for the Calumet City and the Hammond Woman's Clubs.

The girls wear formals when they sing in the evening and standing decked out in their best bibs and tuckers we see: Phyllis Nordaker, Jeanne Lauerman, Irma Winterhoff, Frances Plug, Ruth Mayer, Marilyn Crane, Eleanor Hagerman, Myrl Larrance, Barbara Wright, Genevieve Pryor, Orletta Gindl, Alice Merchant and Bernace Jacques.

Library Gives Efficient Service

Orderliness, efficiency and accomplishment — your own T. F. library.

Haven't you often wondered how it all comes about? The answer is the library assistants under the expert supervision of Miss Vivian Abraham, librarian.

Each member of the library staff spends at least one hour a day in the library keeping it orderly and helping students find the material they are seeking.

Girls work at the main desk dating books, filing cards, checking returned books, making out fine slips, etc., as Annette Arkin (president of the library club), Mary Zaworski (vice-president), Leona Podraza (treasurer) are doing. They are being carefully watched by Miss Abraham, while Mary Johnston, Dorothy Snyder, Ruth Katz, and Margaret Sloan look on to learn the method.

The books you see on the truck are not placed there to decorate the library but to put new books where they can easily be found. These exhibits are the pride and joy of Lucille Yurek, Madeline Gumbel, Stella Sumslawski, Eleanor Tutlewski, Betty Overmeyer, Florence Friduss, Dorothy Howard, and Mary Ann Kwiatkowski.

Before and after school, as well as all through the day, the work shop hums with the activity of Alyce Leasure, Virginia Sulicz, Betty Strand, Phyllis Brough, and Wilma Dockweiler. They busily type new cards and pockets, repair torn books, stamp the school letters in new books and file old magazines in their proper places.

There have no doubt been times when you wanted to find some material for which you didn't know where to look, and perhaps Miss Abraham wasn't around to help you. Near the main desk stands our files in which you can find subject cards, title cards, and author cards when entirely completed. At any time, Hazel Hishon, Rita Strand and Delores Sulicz stand ready to help you. We have trained experts, Frances Plug and Irene Borowski, to help you with the Vocational Guidance pamphlets, the different school catalogues, and other material located in the pamphlet drawers.

If you should stroll into the stack room after many students had been trying to find reference books in a hurry, only then would you appreciate the work being done by Margaret Feigenbaum, Mildred Lammering, Betty Ann Rappe, Georgene Wilt working on the lower shelves and assisted by Rose Dunlap, Genevieve Pryor, Mary Trebellas, and Orletta Gindl.

The magazine section of the library is used by the students more than any other part of the library. Due to Miss Abraham's careful selection of magazines, those in the racks are satisfactory to the needs of students. To avoid the rush at this section of the library, the magazines are kept orderly by Lois Bauer, Gerry Coles, Gladys Leedy and Jo Ann Clark; the newspapers, by Derith Moore and Bernice Olson, and are checked out by Marie Mayer and Lucille Konvalinka. Through the organized efforts of these assistants, each student is given prompt attention in this library service.

The least used shelves in the library are the Special Reference shelves. Here may be found copies of "Who's Who," the Atlas, the Almanac, Encyclopedia Britannica, the World Book, the smaller Dictionaries, the Reader's Guide, and bound volumes of magazines.

At the three desks situated in three different corners of the library are seated Virginia Lewandowski, Delphine Podraza, Lillian Kmatz, Loretta Kohler, Lucy Zaworski, Helen Van Osten, and Pauline Goget.

Every minute of the school day — from 8:05 in the morning until 4:35 in the afternoon library assistants are ready to help you solve any library problems.

Thorntonian Staff Snoops for News

At 12:30 right after lunch in the cubby hole at the landing on the west stairs, the Thorntonian staff gets into a huddle.

With one eye on the clock and the other glued to the calender, and with both eyes and ears open for news, they prepare to publish the paper.

Time figures in every aspect of their work. Headlines and deadlines! News that is new! Correct dates in articles! Peppy features and interesting editorials. And the ticking of the clock instantly reminding them to get their articles in.

Upon the shoulders of Anita Bohling, editor-in-chief, Emilie Dutczak, assistant editor, and Dick Dermody, sports editor, fall most of the work of assembling the articles and getting out the paper (No. 7)

Reisha Kraus and Kay Sarros, senior reporters, have the important news articles and stories to report, and Elvera Frank's duty is to exchange the Thorntonian with other school papers. (No. 8)

The columnists are responsible for the features and special articles in the Thorntonian. They are: Virginia Lewandowski, ("Who Told?") Jane Bledsoe, ("The Blackout") Loretta Kohler, ("Scratch Pad") Corinne Mickey, ("Co-ed Sports") and

Hazel Hishon, ("Through the Blackboard")

Those who spend their time rewriting articles for the Hammond Times and Lansing Journal are: Rita Kowalski, Bernice Olsen, Kay Bertram, Gloria Poppen, Wilma Dockweiler and Betty Overmeyer, while Albert Wahlgren has the job of all the filing work. (No. 2)

This year's junior staff, who will fill the senior's shoes, now do a good deal of the reporting for the Thorntonian. The girls are (No. 11): Wilma Dockweiler, Kay Bertram, Irma Winterhoff, Gloria Poppen, Bernice Olsen, Gladys Leedy, Rita Kowalski, June Doe, Esther Gaither, and Rose Dunlap. The boys are (No. 9) Donald Koehn, Vincent Mack, and Joe Lietzan.

In order to have all articles neatly typed, Derrith Moore, Kay Sarros, and Vincent Mack's services are greatly in demand. (No. 12)

Not only is the editorial staff important, Miss Jacks, Helene Brown, and her advertising staff must get the money to keep the paper going. (No. 6)

Helene's assistants on the advertising staff are (No. 1) Lillian Horst, Jeanette Mills, Joan Van Lanningham, Jerry Wilson, Clara Lamb, Billy Stewart, Mildred Hecht, and Delores Miller.

Chronoscope Staff — Happy Though Worried

As the clock clicks its way to 12:30, several of the Chronoscope workers can be seen hurrying to 116 to prepare their assignments, and another group takes their work to the staff office at 1:30 to prepare the final details. There were many workers who spent a great deal of time to make the Chronoscope a success.

Ileanor Borowski and Florence Brezinski were the senior editors and Dorothy O'Kray had complete charge of the underclass section. (No. 8)

The junior editors were Rose Dunlap (Right No. 5) and June Doe. (Right No. 6) Esther Gaither (Left No. 5) also assisted in the junior section and helped Loretta Kohler (Left No. 6) with the feature articles.

The photography and page layouts were all in the hands of Stanley Partvka, Jeannette Kothe, and Miss Moe, the sponsor (No. 4).

Bernard Nondorf, Vincent Mack, and Katherine Sarros had full charge of the boy's and girl's sport sections. (No. 7)

The clubs and organizations were handled by Margaret Schwarz, Emile Dutczak, Shirley Seidler, Gladys Leedy, Reisha Kraus, Ruth Katz, and Annette Arkin. (No. 3)

To handle the financial duties, Miss Jaacks and Mildred Hecht, (No. 9) advertising manager, had all they could do. They had the assistance of such veterans as Mildred Hecht, Ada Reich, Eileen Horst and Jeanne Sibley, (No. 2) and the new ad staff with Billy Stewart, Bob Maloney, Betty Ann Rappe, Edwin March, Estelle Pactwa, Dorothy Bell, Jeannette Mills, Jerry Wilson, Joan Van Lanningham, Clara Lamb, and Dorothy Frentress. (No. 10)

The important job of selling the book was done by: Donald Koehn, Reisha Kraus, Mike Zarowny, Anna Mae Cwetna, Vernon Grulke, Jeanne O'Connor, Leo Serafini, Alice Deakun, Ruth Katz, Rita Strand, Anita Bohling, Howard Barker, Catherine Gloger, Elvera Frank, Ada Reich, Jeanne Sibley, and Nelda Berger. (No. 1)

Not pictured is Anita Bohling, who wrote the introductory pages of the book and the "continuity" (the paragraphs linking one section with the next) She also assisted with the copy-reading and the proof-reading.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Marv Trebellas (Vice President), Donald Koehn (President), and June Doe (Secretary-Treasurer)

We Meet the Jolly Juniors

We'll tag along with the juniors when they have a special class meeting called at 2:30. Miss Kessinger, sponsor, decided they should get together and talk over prom plans. We'll take a look at the class as a whole and at their leaders.

8:30 — My, hear that din! Joe Terre is certainly giving that instrument a workout. Around in the band room we find other juniors who take an active part in the band — Ethel Snyder, Alice Deakun, Irma Winterhoff, Fred Green, Barbara Wright, and Gerald Frevert.

9:35 — Splash! There goes James Anderson into the pool, and he's the junior diving star. James Fritz, Bob Sausaman, Rudolph Buckner are sure to be found swimming back and forth clipping seconds off their last record.

10:35 — Ah, girls' gym class and there's that Jeanne O'Connor, practicing fancy ways of making baskets so she can startle the girls in G. A. C. Helen Ernst, Esther Gaither, Jeanne Sibley, Nellie Swieringa, and Gloria Poppen too, are always improving their technique every minute they can spare.

11:37 — Music is floating through the doors of the gym and who is responsible? — the Girls' Glee Club of course. My, these juniors are busy every minute! Why, there's Frances Plug, June Doe, Esther Gaither, Mildred Lammering, Betty Gerold, Betty Woodburn, Irma Winterhoff, Ellen McKenna, Helen Ernst, Gladys Leedy, Lois Bauer, Mildred Youse, Jeanne Sibley, Leona Kowalski, Patsy Throop, Elizabeth Stasiak, Margaret Sloan, Helen Bona, and Delores Bokla.

12:00 — Now it's the boys' turn to show us who can sing, for the Meistersingers are practicing. As the minutes go flying past, we notice Frank Hill, Richard Nordaker, and the accompanist, Barbara Wright.

12:33 — Miss Moe has her hands full because the articles for the paper must go out tonight and there is loads of typing to do and some last minute articles to be written. But never fear! The junior reporters come to the rescue; among these we find Vincent Mack, June Doe, Bernice Olson, Gloria Poppen, Esther Gaither, Frank Hill, Rose Dunlap, Joe Lietzan, Wilma Dockweiler, Ethyl Snyder, Gladys Leedy, Kay Bertram, Rita Kowalski and Phyllis Wright.

1:38 — "Snap into it here. Dorothy Okray, identify those pictures, June Doe and Rose Dunlap, you'd better get busy on that Junior Section — You won't have them finished by Christmas at that rate." By the sound of all those orders one would believe the students lead a hard life but it's only the part of the Chronoscope staff represented by Juniors and they must get to work or the time will be gone and the Chronoscope will not be ready to go to press.

2:35 — Dear me! The end of the day, the last period but not an idle one for juniors. There are Miss Jaacks' Thorntonian distributors, Jeanne O'Connor and Donald Koehn and the library assistants too numerous to mention.

3:40 — Down in the gym the lightweight basketball team is practicing under the able leadership of Ed Lietzan, who is captain.

3:50 — Up in room 200 the Pep club members are giving their lungs a good work out and there's Kay Bertram and Norma Cheek two of our very popular junior girls leading the cheering.

4:00 — And the football team is still practicing. Bernard Nondorf is to be next year's captain, another junior who is busy every minute.

We've traveled, you and I, around the clock with these busy juniors, but besides these many activities, they find time to pursue a hobby. In the following pages they will tell their favorite sport as spectators and their pet hobby.

To add a little humor, we've taken the liberty of describing them with adjectives corresponding with the first letter of their name.

JUNIORS NOT IN PICTURES

Orchestral Overture for Junior Play

Even in the evening, there are activities taking place. The junior play, "Kentucky Belle" directed by Angus McPhail was one such activity. (Pictures read from top down)

Betty Gerold, in wig, spectacles and wearing a dress fashionable about 1880, was very convincing as the old maid aunt of the play. Behind the disguise of glasses, mustache, bowed knees and cane, is Vincent Mack, who played the old colonel.

Ah, romance! Joe Terre, temporarily an invalid, receives loving glances from Irma Winterhoff

An accident! Our hero, Joe Terre lies on the floor after a fall from a telephone pole. Irma Winterhoff and Betty Gerold care for him, while Jeanne Sibley, Cono La Loggia, Fred Green, Ernest Vierk, Ed Swanson, Barbara Wright, and Leonard Ault look on.

The best acting of the play was determined by a vote of the audience. The winner, Jeanne Sibley, as the negro maid, Lindy, is shown about to hit her boy friend, Keith Howmiller with a broom.

Pat Leonard, Frances Plug, and Frank Hill scrutinize the medical chart held by Anne Sestakaukas.

Dancing we find Gloria Poppen, Geraldine Lewandowski, Ellen McKenna and Patsy Throop, the jitterbugs that shocked the old maid aunt.

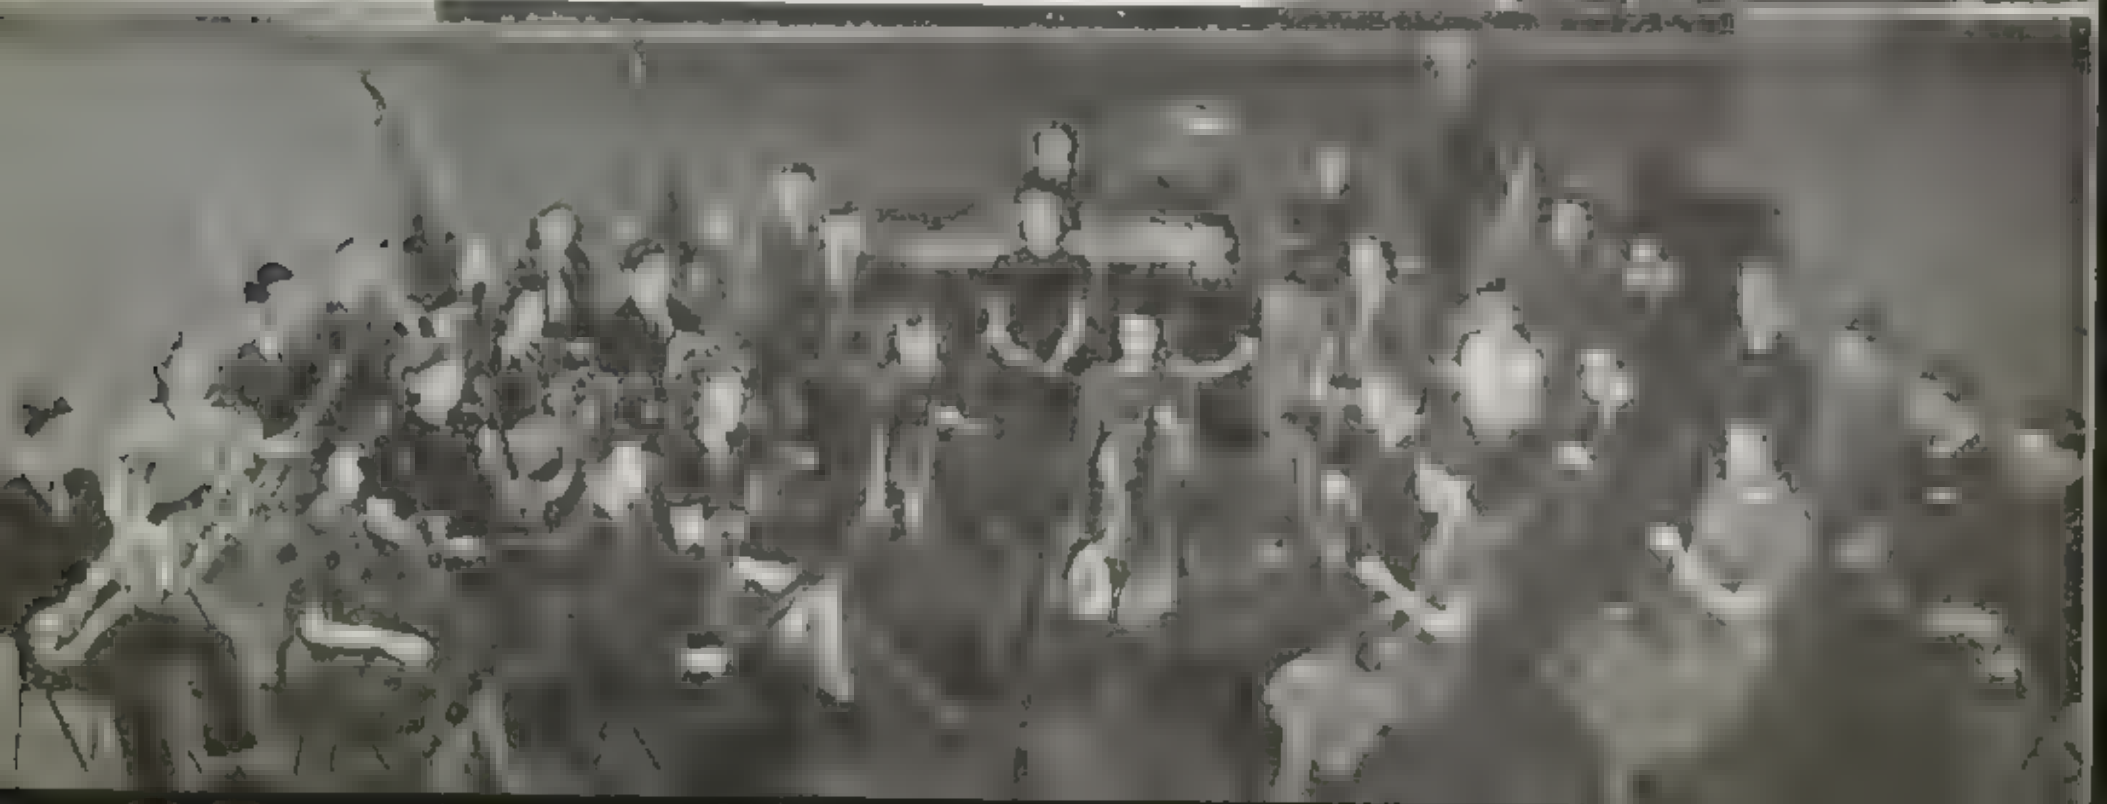

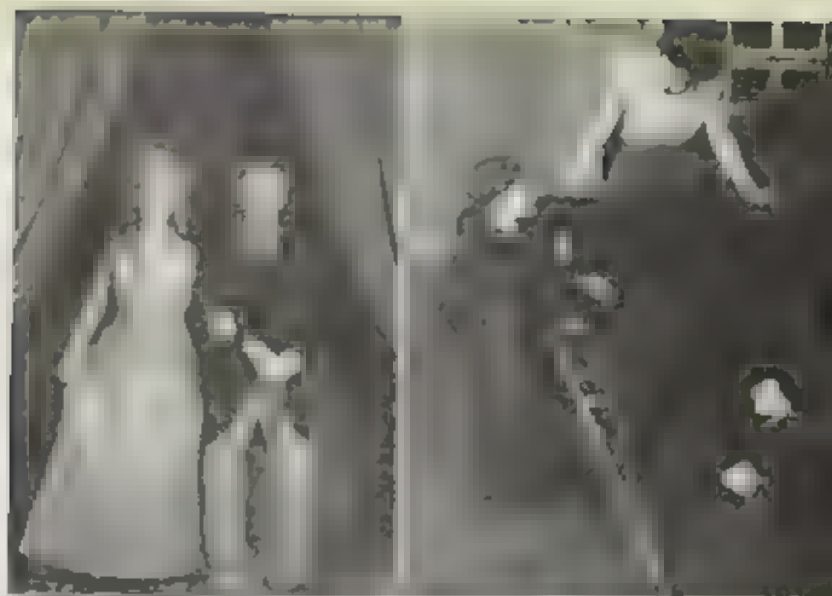

The school orchestra played before and after the junior play and during the intermissions. This is one musical organization which we here at school consider tops. Other appearances which they made this year were at the Christmas Concert and at Commencement.

As we see them seated just before the curtain goes up, the members are

First row: Edward Kuhlman, Hazel Hishon, Hazel Namminga, Orletta Gindl, Henry Grych, and Eleanor Ellens.

EDWARD ZYLA

Two seniors, Evelyn Cassady and Edward Stokes, were crowned Carnival Queen and King after gaining an overwhelming majority of votes in the popularity contest.

As the curtain rises on the Senior class play "Buzzards," the scene shows the living room of the Jordan home at 4 p.m. on a dull day in November with two of the four Jordan children gathered about. The atmosphere of the room is as drab and depressing as the lives of the people who have lived in it for three-quarters of a century.

The cast included:

Standing: Dorothy Tymkow, Irving Annen, Kitty Kiester, Leader Thaldorf, and Norman Shultz.

Seated: Toni Narug, Jeanne Shahan, Edward Stokes, Edgar Cusick, Geraldine Barrett, and Kay Sarros.

On floor: Felix Sokolowski

Mr. Angus McPnail directed the play and presented it in the school gym on the evening of May 10.

Again this year a senior, Evelyn Cassady, won the honor of being Miss Thornton Fractional at the News Hawks Hop on March 29. She was one of the eight girls nominated for Miss T. F. The silver loving cup which she holds was presented to her by Mr. Lockhart on behalf of the club.

Anita Bohling is the senior girl who was our D. A. R. representative for 1940. This honor is conferred upon only one senior girl in our school each year. She was elected by the senior girls and faculty as the girl most worthy of the honor of traveling to Harvey to receive the D. A. R. representative pin and to Chicago to attend a D. A. R. tea.

National Honor Society

Members of this group, who were initiated into the National Honor Society on June 6, are:

Boys, first row: Hubert Zelesky, Eugene Kowalski, Arnold Zimmer, Ellsworth Sherrow, and Edward Stokes.

Second row: John Lair, Louis Tereba, Wilbur Swieringa, Tony Pactwa, and Donald Felsecker.

Third row: Norman Schultz, Leonard Ault, Dick Dermody, Bud Thompson, and Floyd Olsen.

Girls, first row: Virginia Smith, Helene Brown, Annette Arkin, Kitty Kiester, Lucille Pertegato, and Corinne Mickey.

Second row: Elvera Frank, Reisha Kraus, Alexandra Poremba, Anita Bohling, Hazel Hishon, and Jeanne Lauerma.

Third row: Betty Kuhlman, Ruth Katz, Ada Reich, Ruth Bock, Emilie Dutczak, and Bernice Jacques.

The Seniors' Choice

MOST ATTRACTIVE: Elmer Szczepinski and Elvera Frank. Elmer is a handsome fellow with a great smile and a great personality. Elvera is a beautiful girl with a great smile and a great personality.

CUTEST: Robert Brinkman and Elvera Frank. A cuteness that is contagious and a winning smile that is irresistible. They are a perfect couple, not a bit silly — just cute. That's Elvera and Bob.

MOST PEPPY: Virginia Lewandowski and Elmer Szczepinski. They are the life of the party, always ready to make a joke or a pun. They are the most energetic and fun-loving couple in the school.

MOST LOYAL TO SCHOOL: Norman Schultz and Tony Pactwa. Norman is the editor-in-chief of the Thorntonian and Tony is the president of the Boys' Club. They are the ones that form the backbone of the school.

MOST INTELLIGENT: Reisha Kraus and Floyd Olsen. Their debate and brains work hand-in-hand has been proved by Reisha and Floyd. They are the most intelligent couple in the school.

BEST LOOKING: Elmer Szczepinski and Corinne Mickey. Elmer is a handsome fellow with a great smile and a great personality. Corinne is a beautiful girl with a great smile and a great personality.

BEST DRESSED: Kitty Kiester and Dick Dermody. Kitty is a beautiful girl with a great smile and a great personality. Dick is a handsome fellow with a great smile and a great personality.

MOST TYPICAL STUDENTS: Edward Stokes and Emilie Dutczak. They are the most typical students in the school, always ready to make a joke or a pun. They are the most energetic and fun-loving couple in the school.

BEST DANCERS: Elmer Szczepinski and Elvera Frank. They are the best dancers in the school, always ready to make a joke or a pun. They are the most energetic and fun-loving couple in the school.

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED: Reisha Kraus and Floyd Olsen. They are the most likely to succeed in the school, always ready to make a joke or a pun. They are the most energetic and fun-loving couple in the school.

MOST VERSATILE: Harry Thompson and Corinne Mickey. Corinne is everything, from G. A. C. president to cheerleader. Harry is a lightweight basketball champ, football player, Monogram Club member, and a great dancer.

MOST POPULAR: Kitty Kiester and Dick Dermody. They are the most popular couple in the school, always ready to make a joke or a pun. They are the most energetic and fun-loving couple in the school.

Girls' Club is Really Many Clubs

"Gee I hope that I'm not late for class," moans poor Suzie Freshman who can't open her locker, but up comes her Big Sister to the rescue. Little Suzie would wander around aimlessly, too, if it weren't for her Big Sister. She met this helping hand at the Big and Little Sisters party on September 8. Suzie wanted to become active in Girls' Club work, because she wanted to be the proud owner of a T. F. pin in her junior or senior year. So she decided to attend all the affairs she could. On October 31, there was the Hallowe'en party of which Kay Bertram was general chairman. Then came the greatest event, the Girls' Club Collegiate Dance with music by Don Lange and his orchestra. Of course Suzie attended with her best beau.

Teas were given quite frequently for the girls and here is where Suzie was taught her tea etiquette. Suzie's big sister, who was a board member, told her all about the lovely tea that was held at Mrs. Mayer's home around a beautiful Christmas tree. The Girls'

Club board, the faculty women, and faculty men's wives were present.

Around the holiday season, Suzie's friend, Margaret Schwarz, appointed girls to sell seals at the post office. Margaret was general chairman of the Calumet City clinic. The skin tests given the following spring were a direct result of the sale of these seals. Suzie also assisted in the sale of Easter seals which were for the benefit of crippled children.

Then on February 2, a new crop of freshmen were greeted by Big Sisters at a party given in the band-room.

"I'm sure glad I'm past that stage," exclaims Suzie as she watches the new set of bewildered freshmen. On April 5, Suzie attended the Alumnae party with her sister who had graduated in 1930.

"Oooooops!" squeals Suzie as her right skate gets tangled up with her left one at the roller skating party. The event was given by the Boys' Club and Girls' Club at the State Roller Rink on April 8.

On April 10 came the Senior Girls' Breakfast of which Jeannette Kothe was general chairman. At each girl's place was an attractive place card and a lovely jonquil. Suzie didn't mind missing it much because she knew that she would soon be an eager sophomore, then a bold junior, and finally a sophisticated senior.

GIRLS' CLUB BOARD

On April 20, eighteen girls, representing our school, attended the Girls' Club Conference at Lew Wallace High School in Gary, Indiana. Suzie felt that if she worked hard enough, perhaps some year she might be able to attend. The girls were to discuss subjects under the main heading of "Our Challenge." Suzie's schoolmates who attended were Emilie Dutczak, Jeanne Shahan, Kitty Kiester, Jeanne Sibley, Kay Bertram, Betty Gerold, Gloria Poppen, Shirley Seidler, Corrine Mickey, Jeanne O'Connor, Elizabeth Hesselbarth, Evelyn Cassady, Virginia Fedosky, Margaret Schwarz, Betty Strand, Elvera Frank, and Pat Throop. Miss Heigl was selected by the board to accompany Miss Schmidt and the group.

On May 1, Suzie proudly flaunted her class bow, which was a vivid green one, and later she danced at the after school social.

The grand finale of the year was the Girls' Club Mother-Daughter Party held on May 3. Suzie had tried faithfully to attend all the school functions and had recorded her activities, because she wanted to be the possessor of one of those gleaming T. F. pins within two years, and who knows, Suzie may even earn that beautiful cup that is presented annually to the most active girl. This year there were 36 seniors who had attained points to get pins.

At the beginning of this party, Suzie and the other girls presented each mother with a pretty flower. Suzie's heart swelled with awe at the sight of the candle lighting ceremony. The candles of the in-going members were lit by the candles of the out-going members. The names of the new officers of the club were kept in secrecy until the height of the ceremony.

Suzie hoped that, if she became a board member, she would also be the head of some committee just like the girls she knew: tickets, Elvera Frank; socials, Evelyn Cassady; Calumet City clinic, Margaret Schwarz; school clinic, Kay Sarros; refreshments, Betty Strand; teas, Jeanne Shahan; candy and check-room, Virginia Lewandowski and Anita Bohling; "Highlights," Shirley Seidler; club meetings, Corrine Mickey; big sisters, Hazel Hishon.

Yes, Suzie, we are sure you would make a good board member, for you helped in the sale of Christmas and Easter seals, sold candy at the football and basketball games, sold basketball pins, helped in the dressing of dolls for Christmas, helped raffle a cake at the Carnival and helped fill Thanksgiving baskets.

Suzie found out that it was very easy to become active at school because the Girls' Club was always sponsoring social activities in which she could render service to her school or to her community.

The Girls' Club officers during 1940 were: Emilie Dutczak, president; Jeanne Shahan, vice president; Kitty Kiester, secretary; Jeanne Sibley, treasurer.

Hard Grind is Relieved by Trips

When the 3:35 bell rings, T. F.'s debate teams are not to be found among the merry crowd ready to leave the building. Instead, we find them hurrying to room 222 for two hours of preparation under the supervision of Frank Allan, their energetic coach.

Because they couldn't accomplish everything in the time allotted them after school, the tournament team of Arnold Zimmer, Ruth Katz, Reisha Kraus, and Ellsworth Sherrow found it very convenient to hold meetings at their homes. In case you have wondered why you often find a debater suppressing a yawn, it's because the clock almost completely went around before the meeting held the previous evening had ended.

Time plays a very important part to debaters for no sooner is one tournament over than they must be ready to take part in another.

"Statistics demonstrate," as a debater would say, "that we have participated in sixteen tournaments."

Fractional's busy debate season commenced when the entire varsity squad of Zimmer, Katz, Kraus, Sherrow, Thedens, Gibbons, Kraegel, Wahlgren, Twedell, McMullin, Leedy, Lauerman, Olson, Murrin, Dean, and Rappe, took part in the annual Hammond practice tournament held November 11.

Since that time everyone has participated in at least four debates, while each member of the tournament squad has taken part in at least fifty debates. Not only has this team debated fifty times, but they have gone on three overnight trips, met schools from four different states, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin, and even served as judges. They also placed first in the Interstate semi-finals, second in the Interstate finals, and second in the tournament held at LaPorte. Mr. Allan's enthusiasm, as shown in the center picture, has done much to urge them on to winning the cup for taking first place in the Metropolitan Debate League held in 1939. However, the climax of the season came on April 13, when Edgar Thedens, Ruth Katz, on the affirmative, and Reisha Kraus, Arnold Zimmer, Ellsworth Sherrow, negative, won second place at the district tournament held at LaGrange. This victory made T. F.'s debaters eligible to compete with the twelve best Illinois schools for the state championship at Urbana on April 26-27. Six straight wins for first place at the Bloomington Invitational Meet of April 20 was another feather in their caps.

Not only has our tournament team been active, but the sophomore squad of Edgar Thedens, Billy Gibbons, Albert Wahlgren, and Wilfred Kraegel have participated in many debates so that next year Fractional will have a very experienced team to replace those seniors who have been active. This team placed second in the Freshman-Sophomore tournament at West Aurora, and also won second place in the tournament held at Elgin.

Fractional's freshman squad of Jones, Bogacz, Anderson, Peters, Pactwa, Kinsman, Allward, Coughlin, Nowak, Barker, Mowatt, and Klimek, with Clyde Blanke as their coach, have served as very competent chairmen and time keepers at the Christmas tournament for reserve debaters, the Interstate finals, and various other debates held at our school.

TRIPS

1. ELKHART, INDIANA
Entire debate squad left Mr. Blanke's house on school bus, 5 a.m. on January 13.

13. URBANA, ILLINOIS
State tournament. Eliminated by Jacksonville, LaGrange, Wheaton, and DuQuaine on April 27.

There Still are Four More Clubs

No, it wasn't the circus coming to town! It was just some enthusiastic Boys' Club members marching through the hall in tempo with the beat of drums, carrying banners and signs advertising the Boys' Club annual dance.

This is just one example of the energy and enthusiasm displayed by the Boys' Club throughout the year, under the leadership of Tony Pactwa, president; Ralph Voss, vice-president; Donald Felsecker, secretary; and Bernard Nondorf, treasurer. (Officers in insert)

Just raring to carry out the plans for some event, we find these boys sitting and laying their plans during the first lunch period: Donald Felsecker, Bud Thompson, Eugene Coyle, Edward Stokes, Bernard Nondorf, Ralph Voss, Dominick Vitale, Donald Koehn, Joe Terre, Edward Kuhlman, John Padjen, Tommy Shaffer, listening to President Tony Pactwa giving them a pep talk.

The first Boys' Club affair, the Freshman Party given early in the fall, was met with great enthusiasm.

Next, the boys were kept busy distributing 60 Thanksgiving baskets to needy families in Calumet City, Burnham, and Lansing, a project in which they helped the Girls' Club.

Spring activities commenced for the Boys' Club when they started the ball rolling on roller skates at the party held April 8 at the State Roller Rink. The Boys' and Girls' Clubs again cooperated in the affair.

The climax of the year was the "Vienesse Waltz," the annual Boys' Club Dance, given on April 12.

The spirit of the boys, the desire to make everything they planned a success, made this year's Boys' Club one of the most outstanding T. F. has had in years.

It's 3:45 Tuesday and the Flying Eagles are holding their weekly meeting. Plans are being made for a trip to the Municipal Airport, and for another one of their big model meets.

We see seated left to right in the art of admiring a particularly fine model:

Bottom row: Dick Cassidy, and Billy Stewart

Second row: Eugene Annen, Bob Sausaman, Leo Smith, (vice president) Jack Matthews, Jerry Coles, and Bob Goff (president)

Third row: Robert Hansen, Leonard Pranske, Bill Kaluf, Tom Irving Annen (secretary-treasurer).

Fourth row: Clarence Troppman, Dick Le Breton, Jack Donald Erfert, Edmund Stachowicz, and Emery

At 3:40 on Thursday afternoon, the Photography Club, sponsored by Mr. Frey, meets in room 217. Before the meeting the officers, Betty Strand, Eugene Kowalski, Shirley Seidler and Donald Lammering check over the program.

The first project, that of making cameras out of card board, adhesive paper, and a needle, is quite a task but the members succeed in doing it. Pictured with their hand made pin-hole cameras are Dick Le Breton, Paul Nady, Paul Jones, Billy Stewart, Dorothy Howard, Jacqueline Jones, Phyllis Wright, Norma Goyke, Rita Kowalski, Anna Van Krumpen, Helen Bergeron, and Margaret Schwarz.

Developing negatives and printing pictures is an interesting project. Gladys Leedy and Elaine Wojciehoski develop at the trays, while Don Lammering is engaged at the printing box.

Shirley Seidler, Mary Johnston, Eugene Kowalski, and Orval Meyer are examining newly made negatives to see if they are worth being printed.

Every other Monday evening at 3:45 in room 200 the News Hawks gather to discuss ways of carrying out their projects. Putting on a successful hop is the main project of the News Hawks every year, and every member helps in some way. This year Henry Kayner's orchestra provided music for a crowd of 400 dancers.

The roll consists mainly of girls, as follows:

First row: Emilie Dutczak, Corinne Mickey, Ruth Katz, Reisha Kraus, Jane Bledsoe, Elvera Frank, Helene Brown, Bernace Jacques, Anita Bohling, and Kay Sarros.

Second row: Irma Winterhoff, Mabel Keller, Florence Friduss, Mary Trebellas, Jean O'Connor, Margaret Schwarz, and Virginia Lewandowski.

Third row: Eleanore Borowski, Florence Brezinski, Lillian Horst, Rita Strand, and Sophie Sarros.

Fourth row: Dick Dermody, Ada Reich, and Vincent Mack.

Fifth row: Hazel Hishon.

The officers shown in the insert are: Jane Bledsoe, president; Elvera Frank, vice-president; and Margaret Schwarz, secretary-treasurer.

Assemblies Breuk Monotony

Not the entire school but exactly 528 of the student body were present at the Amateur Hour presented in an assembly on April 8 during the last period.

At the close of the program, each person attending voted with the final results.

Standing: Stanley Dembowski and Herman Ulandowski — third place ($2.00). Leonard Pranske — first place ($5.00).

Seated: Angeline Vitale — second place ($3.00).

In an afternoon assembly on January 18, Ellsworth Sherrow, senior, was chosen first place winner in the American Legion Oratorical Contest, and Albert Wahlgren, sophomore, received second place.

Estelle Pactwa, sophomore, first place winner in the annual freshman-sophomore poetry reading contest and Arnold Zimmer, senior, winner of the junior-senior extemporaneous speaking contest received the honor of having their names engraved on the trophy plaque which was presented to the school by the Chamiet City Woman's Club. Estelle and Arnold also received books. The judge of the contest was Miss Ella Schadt of George Rogers Clark High School.

An interesting assembly presented one afternoon to the student body was a one act play entitled 'Submerged,' directed by Mr. Blanke. The cast traveled to Bloomington, Illinois on April 20, and won first place at an invitational meet in which eight plays were entered. This is the first time in the history of the school that Thornton Frierson has been represented in a contest of this sort.

CADET ORCHESTRA

Cadet Groups Appear in Other Assemblies

Under the direction of Mr. McPhail, the cadet orchestra appeared at the memorial services for Pat Dermody and played Christmas carols at the school assembly.

Their director turns and points out the members as they are assembled for a rehearsal.

Heard once this year at an afternoon assembly was the cadet band, directed by Mr. McPhail. It is very important, as its members will form the backbone of the big band in the future.

Members of the cadet band are

Second row: Herbert Breclaw, Janet Fulker, Marion Schutz, Wilbur Blair, Kenneth Preble, Walter Bauer, Harold Spannan, William Stewart, Wilma Bennett, and Rose Soltwedel.

Third row: Robert March, Eugene Graska, Alfred Wisowaty, Ruth Boring, Sally Kolsut, Eugene Czerkas, Milton Van Drunen, Phyllis Anderson, Eugene Bradtke.

Standing: Virginia Sulicz, Robert Rentner, Evelyn Zitek, Mr. McPhail, Ray Kowelke, Joe Liesenfelt, Robert Frevert.

CADET BAND

GIRLS' ATHLETIC CLUB

Athletic Girls Pine for 3:45

Many an athletic young miss at Fractional patiently awaits the 3:30 bell so that she may rush down to the girl's gym to an invigorating game of — well, any of the four sports, (volleyball, captain basketball, basketball or baseball) that is being played at the time.

Young sportswomen of every type are visible — the utterly feminine, the "tomboy," and the happy medium — but all are here for the express purpose of enjoying the game. And enjoyment is what they get out of it all in spite of the many scratches, spills, and shiners they have to contend with.

Soczvk, Norma Cheek, Dorothy Becker, Gloria Poppen, Marie Meyer, and Esther Gaither.

Sponsor of the club is Miss Jaacks, who takes much pride in her board which is headed by Corinne Mickey, the president. Head of captain basketball is Dorothy Becker; secretary, Loretta Kohler; head of basketball, Lorraine Keilman; head of swimming, Jeanne O'Connor; head of baseball, Nelda Berger, head of volleyball, Nora Heimbuck; recording secretary, Muriel Anderson; treasurer, Virginia Fedosky; and vice-president, Helen Ernst.

Holding a singular honor is Lorraine Keilman who is the lone possessor of a major T. F. letter.

Minor letter holders are: Marjorie Schutz, Muriel Anderson, Bette O'Connor, Virginia Lewandowski, Katie Sarros, Violet Ziemkowski, Corinne Mickey, Margaret Feigenbaum, Loretta Kohler, and Lillian Kmatz.

The championship volleyball game between the seniors and juniors ended in favor of the seniors with a score 38 to 33.

The senior champions are: Bette O'Connor, Katie Sarros, Corinne Mickey, Lillian Kmatz, Lucille Pertegato, Virge Lewandowski, Margaret Schwarz, Muriel Anderson, Margaret Feigenbaum, Loretta Kohler, Mary Zaworski, Violet Ziemkowski, Lorraine Keilman, and Marjorie Schutz.

Varsity material was furnished by Nelda Berger, Nora Heimbuck, Dorothy Becker, Harriet Drabek, Norma Urbanski, Norma Cheerk, Bette O'Connor, Corinne Mickey, Lillian Kmatz, and Kitty Kiester.

The captain basketball tourney ended with the seniors as champs, the championship game with the juniors closing with a score of 36 to 33. Captain-basketball champs are: Margaret Feigenbaum, Marjorie Schutz, Muriel Anderson, Lillian Kmatz, Loretta Kohler, Corinne Mickey, Mary Zaworski, Violet Ziemkowski, Lorraine Keilman, Bette O'Connor, Lucille Pertegato, Margaret Schwarz, Katie Sarros, and Virge Lewandowski.

G. A. C. BOARD

The varsity is comprised of: Jeannette Klein, Violet Ziemkowski, Althea Brandt, Jeanne O'Connor, Nora Heimbuck, Dorothy Becker, Loretta Kohler, Lillian Kmatz, Virginia Fedosky, Kitty Kiester, and Lorraine Keilman.

In the championship basketball game between the juniors and seniors, the seniors took to the lead and trumped the juniors by a score of 26 to 15. Members of the championship team are: Muriel Anderson, Margaret Feigenbaum, Lorraine Keilman, Corinne Mickey, Bette O'Connor, Lucille Pertegato, Ada Reich, Violet Ziemkowski, Lillian Kmatz, Loretta Kohler, and Margaret Schwarz.

Varsity basketball players are: forwards, Nelda Berger, Loretta Kohler and Corinne Mickey; guards, Lillian Kmatz, Phyllis Nordaker and Nellie Swieringa.

More athletic minded "fems" traverse to the swimming pool at 3:30 on Tuesdays and Thursdays for swimming sessions in Miss Mary Shemaitis's two year old Terrapin club.

The club officers are: president, Jeanne Lauerman; vice-president, Elizabeth Hesselbarth; and secretary, Kay Bertram Bernace Jacques and Jeanne Lauerman proudly display their Terrapin club emblems as the only two girls in the school to have earned them.

TERRAPIN CLUB

At 3:45 every other Tuesday the Pep Club meets. This is a group of energetic students who do most of the cheering at football and basketball games. They are under the supervision of Miss Shemaitis and are coached by the cheerleaders Corinne Micken, Kay Bertram, Virginia Fedosky, Kitty Kiester, Norma Check, and Johnny Yonke. (front row)

CHEER LEADERS

They Add Glamour to Sports

As vitally important as bristles to a brush have been our band, cheerleaders, and Pep Club to the sports this past year

No longer do we come to school solely to watch an exciting contest between two teams but we look forward to the zest, the glamour, the glory our band and spectators lend to the scene

In the tense moment while you're waiting for the tip-off, the encouraging strains of the school song ring out. We settle down on the edge of our seats and give our all, as we yell with the Pep Club led by Kitty Kiester, Norma Cheek, Corinne Micken, John Yonke, Virginia Fedosky, and Kay Bertram

Then at the half when Fate seems against us we are greeted by the strutting figure of drum major Tony Pactwa. He is followed by Bill Clay in bright uniform and Dolores Suarez, Delphine Podriza, Florence Zick, and Mildred Youse in glistening white satin

Tony marches down center and the audience holds its breath as he bends backwards. Across each one's mind flashes the question, "Will his hat make him top-heavy and pull him over?" But no! Not Tony! He is backed by the self-confidence that comes from hours of diligent practice

An ooh — and ah — a sigh, and they're gone. This dazzling sight has had a magical effect on everyone, team included, and spurs us on to chalk up another victory for the Purple and Gold

Director and Officers Work Together

Mr. Harold Christian, band director, and the band officers are the persons responsible for the good musical programs brought to T. F. such as the Albion College Band, which presented a concert on April 29. Programs of this kind are presented to the students to promote greater music appreciation.

The highlight of the band's year is its annual concert. A splendid concert is presented each year through the untiring efforts of Mr. Christian and the willingness and patient work of the entire band.

The concert program presented this year on May 17 follows:

1939 Football Initiates New Field with Floodlights

Old Father Time was fooled when he stepped out of the school on September 22 and looked at the football field. All to be seen were a few figures setting and arranging bleachers. Father had expected a football team and crowded bleachers. But for the first time in T. F.'s history there was a night game on T. F.'s own field. This new field with surrounding track and field facilities and a softball field is one of the best lighted and best turfed fields in the Calumet region.

Before playing at T. F.'s own new field the team traveled to St. Leo and were beaten 6-0 on September 15. Our boys were low on practice but still showed up to break up everything Leo had but one long run.

Coming back to our own field to play for the first time on September 22 a big dedication ceremony was presented. The officials present were: Mayor Zick of Calumet City, Mayor Martin of Hammond, Supt. Fred Benson of the Hammond Technical High School, the principals and school board members of Lansing, Burnham, and Calumet City. Also on the speaker's platform were the rival coaches Petree and Wilson and Capt. Eddie Stokes of the Meteors. The Master of Ceremonies was Bruce Miller.

Tech and Fractional bands both marched and joined in playing the "Star Spangled Banner." The team made the dedication a complete success by winning 20-0 with Sid Eby dashing off 2 touchdowns and big Steve Sertic going over for the other Dick Dermody connected for two of the extra points.

Fresh from victory, Fractional met Kankakee October 2 on our field and were humbled for the first time in twelve years by a Kankakee team, being defeated 6-0. Kankakee scored on a long run by Johnson, speedy halfback, while our boys seemed lost without Gene Coyle, who was ill.

But T. F. was not to be chagrined by this one league defeat and traveled to Blue Island on October to trim them 12-0. Donald Koehn cut loose for one touchdown and Dominick Vitale went over on the other.

After a new start at Blue Island our boys hit Harvey on October 13 with renewed vigor. It was Dominick Vitale who carried the ball only once but tallied six points to take this bruising game from Harvey. Dick Dermody again connected to make the score 2. F. 7, Harvey 0.

Put up against a larger team the Meteors fought on even terms with St. George of Evanston for three quarters. Then in the fourth period Donald Koehn, left half, swept the end for six points only to have St. George come hammering back to score and convert to win 7-6. This game was played on October 20.

After the hard-fought St. George Game, T. F. ran into an equally tough and equally big team in Bloom of Chicago Heights on October 27. After stampeding over other teams Bloom met stiff opposition from Fractional. The Meteor line held on several occasions only to succumb to a 30 yd. dash by Hendron, Bloom flash, and to lose 6-0.

Undismayed the Meteors met Argo November 3, on our own field with Donald Koehn running loose to score two touchdowns. Gene Coyle scored both extra points to win 14-0 from this new South Suburban entree.

Capt. Edward Stokes

The Meteors next traveled to Lockport on November 11 to meet another new league entry. After playing a lifeless half in which Lockport scored and made the extra point, the T. F. boys got hot in the third quarter and put Gene Coyle over with a touchdown but failed in the attempt for the extra point and lost 7-6.

This finished the regular season but a charity game with Catholic Central was still to be played. A trophy was to be presented to the winning team and an individual trophy given to the most outstanding player from the two teams. After a hectic first quarter in which T. F. fumbled four times, once giving Central a safety, both teams settled down and played real ball with Central scoring in the second quarter and Fractional marching 80 yards to send sophomore Bill DeCamp over for a touchdown; but he failed to convert and we lost 8-6. "Red" Winkler of Central was given a gold football as the outstanding star of the game.

RETURNING PLAYERS

First row: Dominick Vitale, Henry Bobak, Donald Koehn, John Padjen, and Bernard Nondorf

Second row: Bill De Camp, Steve Sertic, and Joe Hill

Although this year's team was not what might be called a money team, it paid in dividends. It came out in the short end of the won and lost, but in percentage it outscored its opponents with 71 points to the opponents' 41, while losing six games and winning four. It also outgained its opponents in passing, punting, and rushing. Thus did they win the new title of "Tough Fighters."

Out of 21 lettermen, 13 are seniors who will not return. Captain Eddie Stokes . . . Center . . . South Suburban All League Center for two years

. Center and signal caller, Eddie was outstanding both on defense and offense and had a remarkable knack for calling signals . . . A three year regular who will miss sorely.

Gene Coyle . . . Quarterback . . . All South Suburban Quarterback . . . Spark plug of the team doing the passing, punting, most of the blocking and carrying the ball when called upon . . . sparkled on defense

Elmer Szczepinski . . . Right guard . . . All South Suburban . . . Elmer was one of the smallest men on the team but was always in there showing his ability to give and take it . . . Another three year man.

Dick Dermody . . . Right end . . . Dick was a tall lanky boy with plenty of pepper and an ability to get in there and go.

Mike Varouny . . . Left tackle . . . Mike was the quiet man of the team but his actions spoke for themselves, as he was tops in our tackles

Teddy Gleim . . . Right tackle . . . Teddy was a big man who was hard to budge.

Bud Thompson . . . Left end . . . Bud might be just known as "Speed" as he was up and down the field full of life and pepper.

Sid Eby . . . Left guard . . . Sid played half or fullback and filled both positions, ably carrying the ball or blocking.

Hubert Zelesky . . . Left guard . . . Small but mighty . . . Zeke was fighting hard to win all the time.

Ben Nondorf . . . Captain-elect and left guard . . . Another small man with good blocking and defence ability.

Donald Koehn . . . Left half . . . Speed and stamina are what make little "Sugar" Koehn one of the best backs returning.

Hank Bobak . . . Right Tackle . . . Bobak is a big husky red head who likes to rough it up and can play with the best of them.

Joe Hill . . . Left end . . . Not much in weight Joe makes up for it in shiftness. Joe has an uncanny pass-receiving ability Dominick Vitale . . . Right half . . . Dominick is an excellent blocker and punter. He can carry the ball as well.

Bill DeCamp . . . Fullback . . . Bill is the type who likes to tuck the ball in and plow right straight through. Bill also punts and passes.

John Padjen . . . Center . . . John alternated at left guard and center . . . a crafty boy who makes use of his head.

Wilbur Coles . . . A big boy who can take care of his side of the line and help the other side too.

Burton Smith was a dependable manager and a great favorite with the boys.

Coach Young does the lightweight football coaching . . . He teaches these boys the fundamentals of football and with his teaching the boys strive to become varsity material.

Coach Young Gives Many Upsets

December 1 and the cold months arrive and with them the basketball season. Rather than describe the whole season straight through we will try to describe the highlights of the season, among them losses and wins.

Coach Young started the season with a group of new players and furnished many upsets during the season. Outstanding among these upsets was the beating of Bloom on our floor November 23. George Rushin was the standout of this game which we won 28-19.

Three days after beating Bloom our boys took on Thornton of Harvey who had beaten Bloom 43-34 on December 8 and beat them 50-39 with Dermody and Ollrich scoring 15 and 14 points respectively.

Another revenge battle was won when the Meteors met K.K.K. who also had whipped them this time 35-31 on January 5 and trimmed them 31-13 for a decisive victory on February 10. Again Ollrich and Dermody poured in the high points scoring 24 between them.

On January 26 our boys made T. F. history when for the first time in history we beat George Rogers Clark of Hammond 33-29 on January 26. All the boys worked together to score practically equal points.

Grant Park was our first tournament victory losing to us 40-27 on February 27 with everybody who played steady scoring at least five points.

The defeat that hurt most during the season was the defeat Bloom handed us 20-15 on February 20 to put us out of the league race definitely. The other defeat that hurt was losing to Joliet in the waning minutes of the game by three free throws to lose 26-23 in that last tournament game on February 29.

Other teams to fall to the Meteor fights and pepper in league competition were Blue Island twice 50-17 and 35-18; Argo twice 45-23 and 35-20; Lockport twice 31-28 and 52-33.

Indiana's basketball superiority seemed to show as three Indiana teams beat us and we beat only one. We beat Clark but Hammond Tech, later state champs, beat us in our second game of the season 36-25 at Civic Center. Roosevelt caught our boys napping when they beat us 41-33 on December 10. Tolleston of Gary was also played and they defeated us 30-32 in a thrilling overtime.

Our alumni returned and beat us 25-23 in the season's second overtime, Pete Chapelle "39" putting in the winning basket.

Lettermen include:

Andy Petruska . . . Senior. Andy was small but he could really handle a ball and hit from all over when hot. Andy was elected Honorary Captain at the end of the season. He was always up there out-jumping the bigger fellows.

Captain Eugene Schultz . . . Senior. Gene led the team in the first semester in fine style and was always in there fighting to win.

Gene Oltrich . . . Senior. Gene was sharpshooter from any and all angles and led the scoring column in most games. Gene also was a fine defensive man with no one scoring high on him.

Dick Dermody . . . Senior. He was the big boy who played center and really fought hard to keep the ball at all times. Dick could be counted on for plenty of rebounds at either end of the floor and during all games he was a constant scoring threat.

Don Archer . . . Senior. "Cue-ball" as he is called was the ace spark plug of the team. Not much on the scoring end "Cue-ball" made up for it in defensive ability and setting other players up. His fancy shots gained the admiration of the whole team.

Melvin Cerovina . . . Senior. This was "Happy's" first year out and he could be depended on for points when they were needed. "Happy" also stopped up several relays in numerous games.

Hank Joswick . . . Senior. Joswick transferred from Lane High and turned into an offensive and defensive threat Fractional was glad to get. He, like Rushin, was dead on long shots.

Eugene Coyle . . . Senior. "Gener" was the only three year man on the team and although he wasn't playing steady he showed he had lots in him when he did play.

DeCamp . . . Sophomore. A big husky boy, "Ears" learned to get in the thick of things and really fight for the ball. DeCamp started scoring in mid-season and was hot from then on.

George Rushin . . . Senior. George Rushin might be handsome but it never interfered with his basketball playing. He was deadly with his long shots especially, and also a defensive star.

Lightweights are Champs Again

Champs again in one of Illinois' toughest leagues! That is the accomplishment of this year's lightweight squad which was one of T. F.'s truly great ones. New records in scoring were set by this year's team which also won the Blue Island Invitational Tournament for the first time in T. F. history.

Coached by Mr. Kiester, the lightweights started off the season by defeating Morgan Park December 1, 18-16 with red-headed Leader Thaldorf bringing results with his hot shooting.

On December 2, the lightweights trimmed Hammond Techs 'B' team 13-12 in a thriller at the Civic Center.

T. F.'s first league victory came when they trimmed Thornton of Harvey 24-17 before a big crowd in our gym.

A score of 37-12 in the Argo game gave our lights their fourth victory.

The Kiesterites started the new year by losing to Kankakee 29-21 despite good playing by Bud Thompson.

Blue Island was guest to T. F. on the 6th and lost a close one 18-16.

Six days later Tolleston of Gary hit T. F. and were trimmed 31-14 with newly-elected Captain Eddie Litzan securing 21 points.

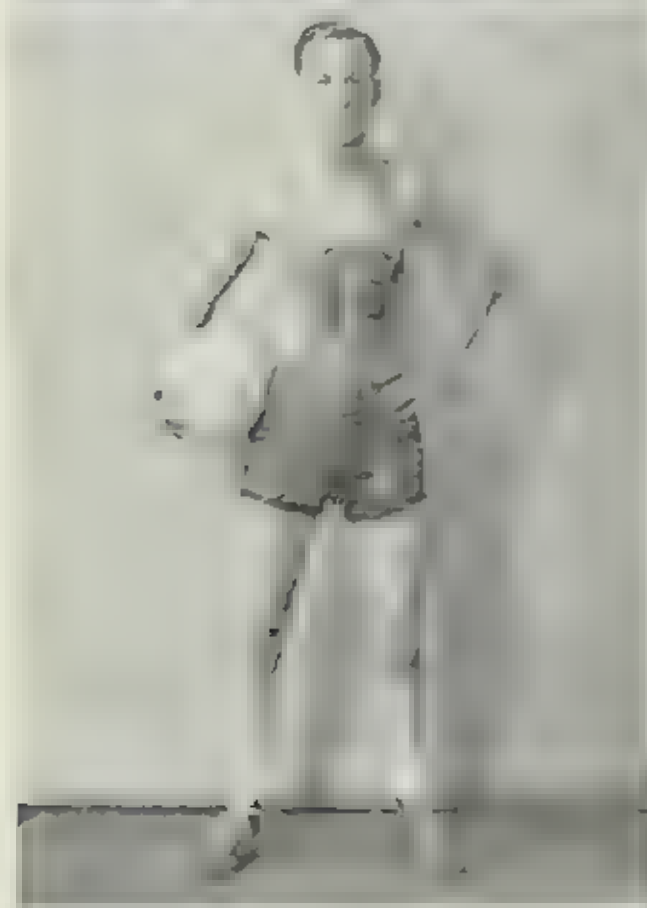

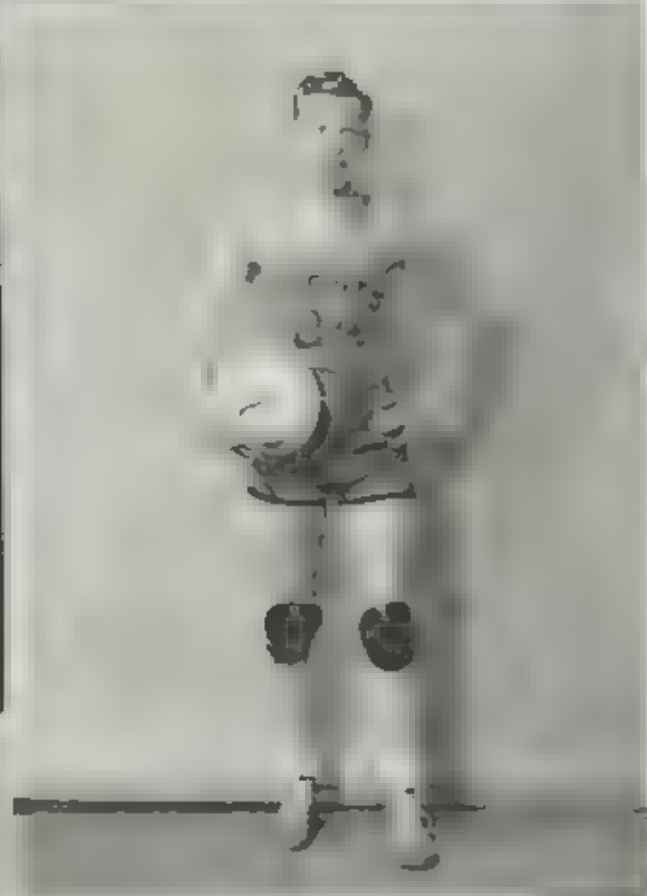

On the 16th the Alumni returned to their "Dear Old Alma Mammy" and were defeated 32-19.

Lockport was mauled 34-19 when they played guest to T. F. on the 19th.

December 23 found Bloom the league leaders in our gym beating us 24-15 to give us a tie in the league standing.

On January 26 the lightweights traveled to Harvey and finished them off 32-21.

On February 2 Argo felt the edge of the Tough fighters' winning ability when they lost to us 30-18. February 17, and our boys practically annihilated Blue Island 41-13.

Then came the lightweight's Waterloo. They seemed lost in Bloom's big game at Chicago Heights and thus lost the game 35-13 on their off day of the season.

February 23 and the Co-champs finished up strong by beating Lockport 51-17. Captain Eddie Litzan finished the season in grand style by scoring 23 points for a new South Suburban record.

After finishing their regular schedule so well Fractional entered the Blue Island Invitational Tournament with high spirits.

Their high spirits seemed to prevail as they barely took a fighting Morgan Park team 22-21 with Leader Thaldorf saving this game with a near impossible hook shot.

With Chuck Doe getting 3 long shots in succession and Litzan scoring from all over, the team went out and nailed Lindbloom 27-25.

With Eddie Litzan making 13 free throws to help him pile up 25 points for a new tournament record our boys whipped Calumet of Chicago 38-35 to gain a berth in the finals.

In the final game of the tournament T. F. got a lead early in the game and held it at the half 17-14. This lead was being cut down slowly by Tilden Tech of Chicago until they were ahead 25-24. With about three minutes left to play Hubert Zelesky came down side for a hook shot that put us ahead 26-25. At the middle of the fourth quarter Chuck Doe fouled out and Jim Coffman came into the game and successfully helped the team stall for two minutes to take the tournament 26-25.

Captain Eddie Litzan . . . Junior . . . Center or forward. Eddie broke all kinds of league records when he scored 23 points in one game during the season, 25 points in one tournament game, and 60 points in four tournament games. Eddie was a fine leader with plenty of defensive ability to offset his scoring.

Bud Thompson . . . Senior . . . Forward. Bud was the reason for all of Eddie Litzan's scoring. Litzan made points but Thompson fed him the ball. Bud was the fastest man on the team and also the most indefatigable. Bud is a graduating senior and will be sorely missed.

Hubert "Zeke" Zelesky . . . Senior . . . Guard. Zeke was the coolest man of the team. His long shots were responsible for the breaking up of many a game. Zeke was an expert on defense and could always be relied upon.

Chuck Doe . . . Senior . . . Guard. Chuck was rewarded for many long practices by playing regular this year. He showed his gratitude by being one of the most aggressive men on the squad. Chuck could sink those long shots and was always taking rebounds to give the ball to our men. Chuck is another graduating senior who will be hard to replace.

Leader Thaldorf . . . Senior . . . Forward. Although he never scored up in the points, Leader was the other point getter. He rated second to Litzan in point getting. His defensive ability also made him sparkle. Leader, too, is one of the graduating seniors that we will sorely miss.

Mack Budzowski . . . Sophomore . . . Guard. Mackey was always ready, willing and able. He was a very versatile player, being able to play guard, center or forward when needed. A big boy as lightweights go, Mack needs a little experience to be a first class player.

Theodore Kunka . . . Junior . . . Guard. "Teeter" was another reserve who could play any position and do it well. Teddy was sent into the game, not to make points, but to control the ball, a job which he did very well.

Special mention should also go to Jim Coffman, John Cipolla, Art Ollrich, Russel Buhning, and John Pank for their hard practice and long hours.

Manager Ray Manuszak proved himself very efficient, being in the right place at the right time.

Although this was Mr. Kiester's 13th year of coaching in T. F., it was certainly not his unluckiest. He came through with another championship team, perhaps T. F.'s greatest.

Tankmen Have 9 Wins, 7 Losses

Although the T. F. tankmen didn't do anything spectacular, they finished up at the end of the season with 9 wins and only 7 losses, which is a very good showing.

There was a 160 yard relay team that broke the school record this year with the time of 1:24. Chester Buffington, a senior broke the school record twice this year. His best recorded time in the 100 yard breast stroke was 1:18.4.

A short introduction of this year's team follows:

Bill Dagley . . . Senior . . . 220 yard free style and diving . . . 9th in state meet. Bill was the captain of this year's team and was a very energetic and versatile swimmer.

Peter Keck . . . Senior . . . 40 yard free style, 100 yd. free style and 160 yard relay. Pete was the high point man on this year's team. Peter was a very consistent swimmer and worked hard to attain perfection. Pete was a member of the record breaking team.

Chester Buffington . . . Senior . . . 100 yard breast, 180 yard relay. Chester was one of the most able breast stroke swimmers that ever swam for T. F. "Chet" was also one of the hard working boys.

Dick Curtis . . . Senior . . . 160 yard relay. Dick has been on the team for three years and has always been an excellent swimmer and an all around "good fellow." Dick was also a member of the record breaking relay team.

Eugene Kowalski . . . Senior . . . 100 yard free style, 180 yard relay, 160 yard relay. It might be said that "Gene" was the nucleus of this year's team "Gene" too, was a member of this year's record breaking relay team.

Louis Tereba . . . Senior . . . 160 yard relay, 220 yard free style, 40 yard free style, 180 yard relay. Although "Louie" was a first man he showed fine spirit and was a very active and energetic fellow.

Frank Keller . . . Senior Manager. Frank was a very able and efficient manager and his services will be sorely missed.

Bob Sansaman . . . Junior . . . 100 yard breast stroke . . . 180 yard relay. Bob was the back stroker of this year's team and will be a great help to next year's team.

James Anderson . . . Junior . . . Diving . . . 100 yard breast stroke. Jim is another up and coming boy who will greatly aid the team next year. He swam with Buffington in the breast stroke event.

Rudolph Buckner . . . Junior . . . 40 yard free style, 160 yard relay, 180 yard relay. "Rudy" has been out for the team since his freshman year, and has shown very good talent, and will be one of the regular boys on the team next year.

Andrew Franczek . . . Junior . . . 160 yard relay, 100 yard free style. "Andy" is another first year man but has shown good swimming ability and will be needed on next year's team very much.

Marvin Kedrowski . . . Sophomore . . . 160 yard relay, 180 yard relay. Marvin is only a sophomore but he "piled" up enough points to earn his monogram. He has two more years to swim and the team will benefit by him.

Ortal Meyer . . . Junior . . . 220 yard free style. It seems as though there were quite a number of first year men this year but none has shown such exceptional skill as Meyer.

Theodore Winiarczyk . . . Junior . . . Diving. "Ted" has been out for the team since his freshman year and has proven himself to be a diver of the highest caliber. He had an unfortunate accident which put him out of commission in the middle of the season.

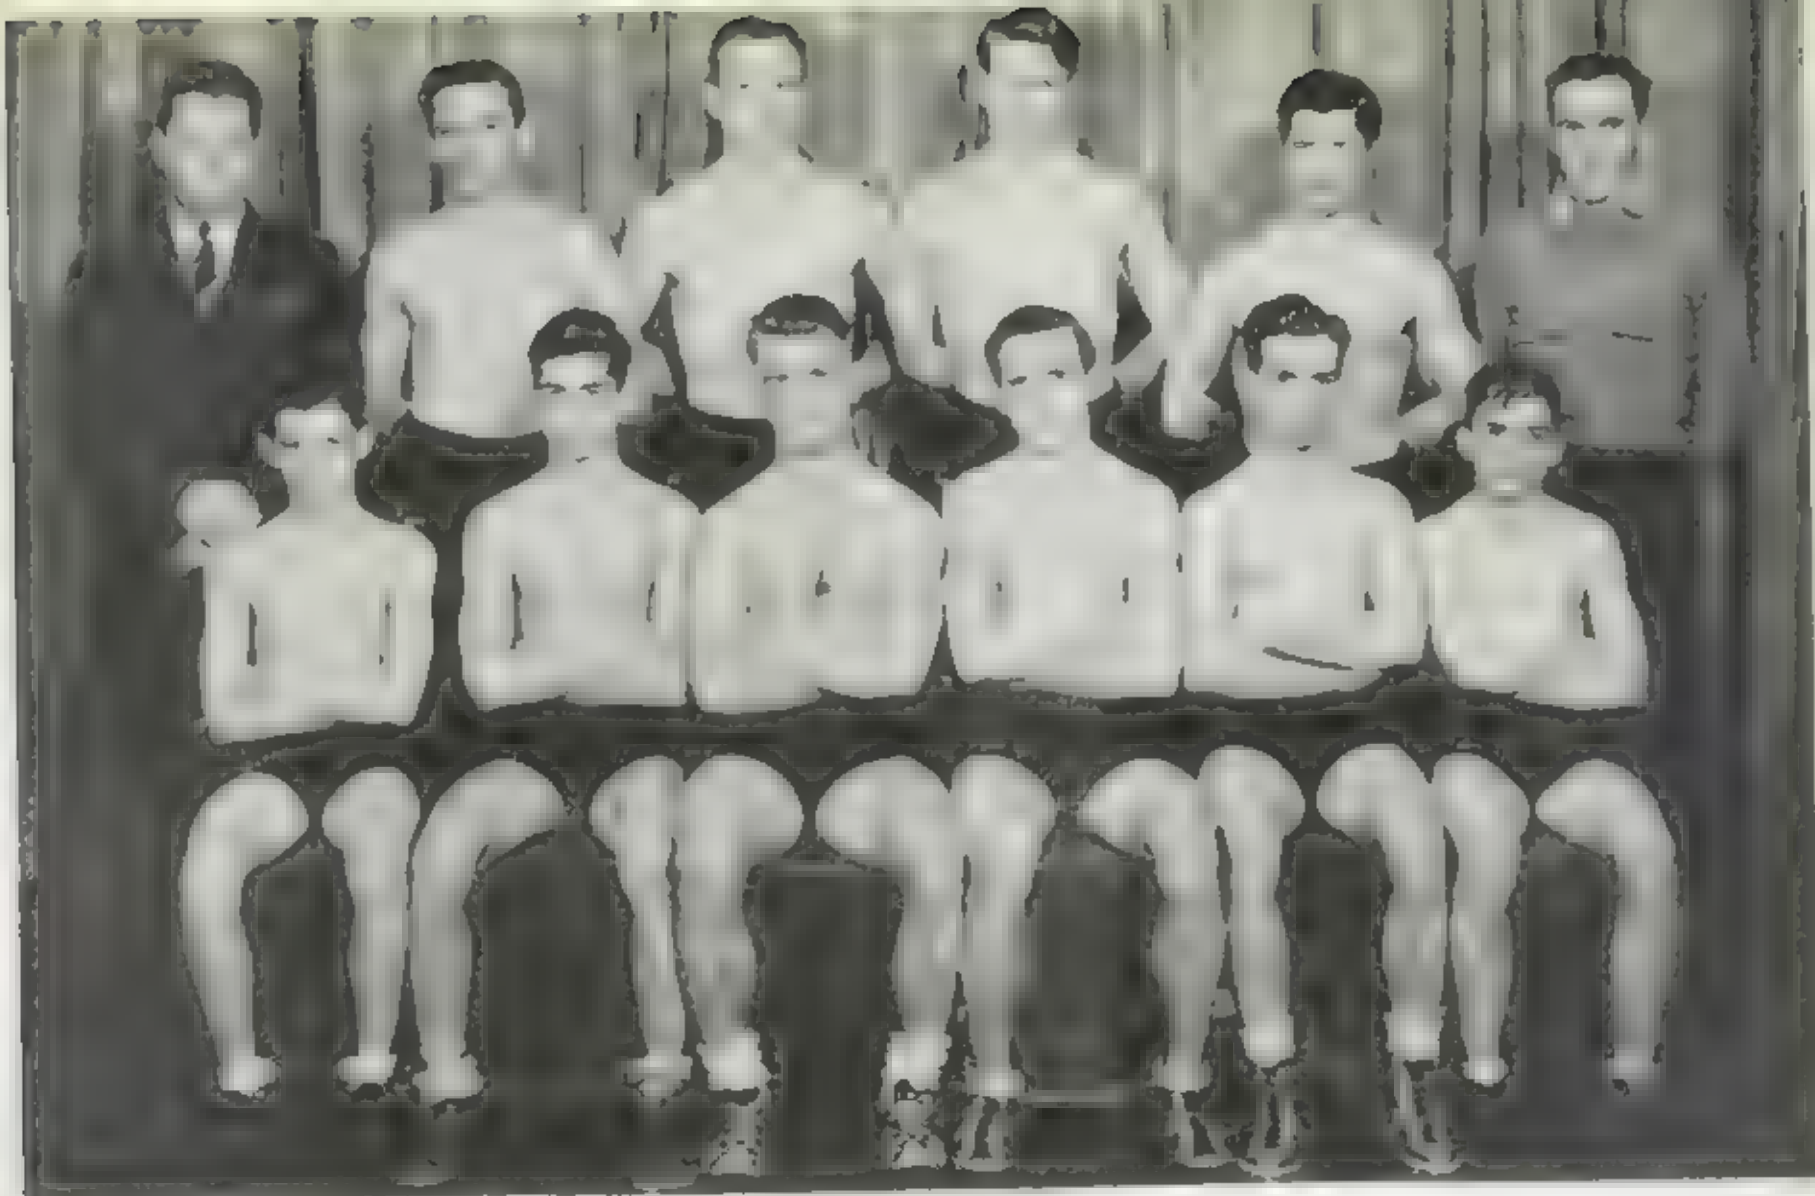

There are quite a few boys who will be coming up in the next year or so, they are: Jim Henderson, Paul Jones, Richard LaSalle, Leonard Lockhart, Myrslow Purko, Guy Walters, and Dick Cassidy. The sophomore manager, Dick LeBreton will come up and fill the shoes of Harold Jennings who will be the senior manager next year.

The weather is cold but the wrestlers are always hot as they grunt, groan, and grapple. Coached by Mr. Henry Potts the wrestling team again was a success during the season, winning 11 and losing 6 and placing 4 out of 4 men in the sectional

Lettermen who again brought honor to the Purple and Gold were Edwin March . . . Edwin fooled the opponents with his curly hair and good looks; he then proceeded to tear them apart. Senior . . . 125 lbs. . . first semester captain . . . 9 matches . . . 25 points.

Clyde Lawrence . . . Clyde also had a mild-mannered look about him but he really went to work on his opponents with his "Sugah and Figah Fo" to pin them. Senior . . . 165 lbs. . . first place sectional tournament . . . 21 matches . . . 79 points

Bill Korupinski . . . Bill and his headlock were famous on the mat as he usually won with it. Senior . . . 155 lbs. . . 13 matches . . . 51 points

Robert Brinkman . . . Bob was another handsome lad and bewitched his opponents with his strength and aggressiveness. Senior . . . 135 lbs. . . 13 matches . . . 32½ points.

Leonard Schab . . . "Lena" acted just like a "Pro" as he grunted groaned but still was the killer of the team. Senior . . . 145 lbs. . . third place in the sectional . . . 20 matches . . . 66 points

Andy Molnar . . . Andy started as a reserve but took over March's place when the latter graduated. Senior . . . 125 lbs. . . 13 matches . . . 25½ points

THANKS

Bye, ole school, we're going to leave you now and well — thanks for everything, thanks for all the fun and laughter and yes, thanks for all the sorrow and tears, too. Thanks for four years of hard work and hard play.

Oh, we know we've called you the prison, and Mr. Lockhart the warden but gosh, deep down in our hearts we've never really meant a word of it.

Thanks for the little freshies that we all laugh at and yet are always willing to lend a hand to, and thanks for the sophomores; they're coming up fast now and know a little more and try to act sophisticated. Thanks for our dearest enemies, the juniors; they're kinda glad to see us go, so they can step in our shoes, and yet we can see they're sorry too, and then thanks for us, the seniors, we were the big boss for awhile, and were looked up to with awe.

Thanks for all those memories we'll have, the whole school in general, the figures on the building greeting us each morning and bidding us goodbye each night. Thanks for the desks, they got kinda hard sometimes and we got pretty tired but thanks anyhow. And thanks for all the teachers, those who made us sad and those who made us mad and those who made us glad —

THANKS

Miss Brummett's sophistication,
Miss Stauffer's demureness, Miss Heigl's loveliness, Mr. Young's handsomeness, Mr. Blanke's puns, and Mr. Lambka's sympathy.

Thanks for Mondays when we came to school bright and cheery, ready and willing, and thanks for Friday the last day when we're tired and grouchy and looking forward to two days vacation.

Thanks for the assemblies, when we got out of classes and received good entertainment. Thanks for
Mr. Lockhart's boyhood in Missouri talks, Miss Jaacks's ticket selling,
Miss Moc's Thorntonian and Chronoscope. Thanks for the pink, white and even the blue slips.

Thanks for the various activities,

the clubs and all the good they've taught us. Thanks for the plays and concerts and parties and socials where we've had fun and laughter.

Thanks for the bright colors and for all the kids' smiles, thanks for the bright sunny days and the dreary rainy days.

We're graduating now, so goodbye school, and thanks for everything.

MAY MADNESS

While strolling through the halls
one day

In the very merry month of May

I was taken with the idea

That a show I'd like to see-a

While strolling through the halls
one day

While strolling out the door that day

In the very merry month of May

I was taken by surprise

By Mr. Lockhart's sharp blue eyes

Now I'm sitting in detention every day.

REMEMBER MAY 1 AND 2? A SPRING SNOW

Swiftly, the snow comes down

The white winged Mercuries,
On their ever hastening way

To signify that spring is not yet here

While melancholy faces,

Out of the window peer.

moon,

Trying to imitate Crosby's croon,
Embers in the camp-fire glow,

As some still breeze begins to blow,

Chilly dawn will wake us—then,
Back in the saddle to ride again.

FUTILITY OF EDUCATION

"You know, Alexander was one of the greatest generals of all time. He never lost a battle, and at one time, he controlled all of the civilized world." Mr. Elvin pauses for breath and lets his gaze wander around the room. It (the gaze) lights upon Pat Leonard who is looking at him with a rapt expression on her face.

"Ah," beams Mr. Elvin, "there is a girl who really likes ancient history."

But would he blush with mortification if he should know what she is thinking. For Miss Leonard is wondering whether those nice white teeth are really his — or his dentist's!!!

The sixth period rolls around and we go across to room 116. Mr. McPhail is just finishing a discourse on the life of Julius Caesar. As he has been talking for about forty-five minutes, his students are somewhat tired. He has explained all Caesar's important conquests and is just now finishing. "Caesar may join the ranks of modern hairless politicians for he was as bald as a billiard ball."

Some days later Joe Terre asks "Jabo" Jablonski where Caesar was in 48 B. C.

What does "Jabo" say? You guessed it! He replies, "Well, uh-er-uh, well I know he was bald-headed. McPhail didn't tell us much more than that, did he?"

It would be a perfect school if:

Boys wouldn't put water on the chairs.

Mrs. Canaga wouldn't argue about Hitler.

Mr. Blanke had some new puns.

It wouldn't rain on a football night.

Mr. Elvin would let us sleep fifth period.

The seats were a little softer.

Richard Brown came to school on time.

Mr. Young would give the girls a chance.

Mr. Nelson would try to scare the seniors instead of the freshmen.

We had to read only fiction books.

We didn't have detention.

We could all sell magazine subscriptions.

We'd all subscribe to the Thorn-tonian.

We'd look good in our Chronoscope pictures.

Mr. Allan wouldn't talk so loud.

We'd have more assemblies.

It wouldn't be so cold in the big gym.

We wouldn't have any more errors in typing.

No home work would be permitted.

The water in the pool wouldn't be wet enough to take the curl out of our hair.

3:35 would come sooner.

Mr. Lambka would get a new joke.

All the boys were football heroes.

All the girls were beautiful.

They served free food in the cafeteria.

Everyone was on the honor roll.

JUST A BRAIN STORM

The moon shone bright o'er Goose-

The breeze was swishing through the trees,

And one could hear the droning of bees.

What bees were doing at night, I

Hay's in the barn; cows are fed,—

Time to put out the light, and go

EXCUSE ME!

2:30 in the office. Margaret sees a group of freshmen coming and prepares herself. "What do you want?" is her greeting to the first one. "Well, uh," then hurriedly, "I gotta shovel coal so I wanna be excused."

"Have you got a note?" Margaret's voice is cold.

"Uh, er, uh, n-not exactly; Ma wrote one but I forgot it."

"You'd better see Mr. Leonard," Margaret's voice is final, and the erst-while coal-heaver turns away with a look of deep disgust on his face.

The next one steps up.

"I gotta see a man about a job."

"My," Margaret's voice is faintly sarcastic, "business must be booming. You're only the fifth one today, that's had a job promised him. You'd better go see Mr. Leonard."

"Nuts, a guy don't get no encouragement around here," mutters the job seeker, departing for the sanctum sanctorum of Mr. Leonard.

Ah, such is life!

IT CAME CLEAN

Time was when the boy could romp

And play whenever he pleased;

But now he's in the study hall

Down on his hands and knees

That's what he gets for spilling the ink;

And permanent ink it was,

And soon as he spilled this permanent ink

They gave the office a buzz.

First came Barney, the janitor,

With mop and scrub pail, too,

And he said, "You'd better start scrubbing,

Or I'll beat you black and blue."

So he scrubbed, and he scrubbed,
and he rubbed, and he rubbed,

But the floor it wouldn't come clean.

So they sent him down to the auto shop

To get some gasoline.

He got the gas as quick as a flash

And returned to the scene of his crime;

And he scrubbed, and he scrubbed,
and he rubbed, and he rubbed,

And the floor came clean this time

Mary, Mary quite contrary,
How does your homework go
With history and geometry
And English and such
And three night socials in a row?

There once was a woman
Who taught at the school.
She taught so many children
That she didn't know what to do.
So she gave them a great deal of homework and said,
"This should keep them from trouble till it's time for bed."

Little Mary Lesk
Sat down at her desk
To do her English the right way.
Along came a football hero
And sat down right near'er
So Mary got Zero
That day.

Don Ehinger watched the clock.
The clock struck 3:35.
The boy took a dive.
And was out so fast, it fairly made the school rock.

This is only the third time I've been late this week anyhow. The other two times I came in about five minutes early. He oughta take that extra ten minutes into reserve for the few minutes I'm late. I don't see why I have to come first period anyway. I just have library and I could be getting some of my necessary eight hours sleep. Guess I'll put on the rest of my complexion. ... at that mirror. Anyone got a comb they'd just love to have me use? Thanks pal. Say, did you hear the latest Confucius say, is it good? It goes like this . . . Confucius say . . . ! Boy, that's really sumpin' Hey, there goes the bell. They must just ring that bell about three minutes earlier on purpose.

"Good morning, Miss Stauffer. She's a grand teacher, no detention from her. Here we are reading murder stories. That MacBeth was a killer. Ha! Ha! That's a good pun. I think I'll contribute it to the Thorntonian. The only trouble is they probably won't publish it. They just don't appreciate true art. Anyone could make up better jokes than some of those they print, especially those by Mr. Blanke.

There's the bell for third period and me without my floor talk for Mrs. Canaga. Farewell, dear friends. This is the end! Can't take any chances on being late to her room.

"She's off again on Hitler. Poor guy, I used to think he was terrible, but now if Mrs. Canaga ever caught up with him — there ain't no tellin' what would happen.

"Telephone! I hope it's for me. It is! That's swell.

"Now, Margaret, I can explain everything. I didn't ditch intentionally yesterday, oh no! You see it's this way — I was walking down the hall right after lunch and suddenly everything went black and the next thing I knew, I was sitting in the Parthenon Theater. But it's true! Aw, Margaret don't give me detention again. Aw nuts!

* *

"Lindy Lou, Lindy Lou, Mi, Mi, Mi" I wonder how Miss Brazzell expects me to sing with that second soprano hitting all the wrong notes in my ear.

"There's the bell for lunch, Gangway everybody, here I come. This is the time I like best in school.

* *

"a;sldk mghjfdksl etaoim say I'm getting pretty good at this typing after two years.

"Oh! Oh! five minutes timing— Nox in the tile for alk goo to come to the aid of their pafy . . .

"Gosh, I came out minus in that timing. I must be getting old or sumptin'. I know what's wrong with me — I ate too much lunch. I can't wait for next period, study. The only thing I'm gonna study is the science of sleeping. Good thing I don't have swimming today. My natural curls would all come out. Bell! "Can't be late to this class, Nelson's the teacher. They say he scares only freshies, but I don't know about that . . . Z-Z-Z-Z-Z-Z-Z-Z.

"Br-r-rrr-ing — Aw Ma, I don't want to get up yet — what — who — where am I? — Oh that's the bell for seventh period.

"—Well, what shall I draw today? That surrealistic picture I drew last time was swell. I don't think it was appreciated tho! This art class is a snap course, but I ain't got no more imagination no-how. Guess I'll draw a picture of the teacher — I'll make it kinda flattering then I'll be sure of passing. — Hooray the bell — Aw heck I forgot I've got detention.

* *

"Gosh these fellows in detention. If they'd only be quiet and quit shooting spit balls. I want to get out early. Oh! oh! one just hit Miss McKeehan — Well, that's ten minutes more detention for all of us!

Well, finally we got out of there. It's 4:25 and I positively have to be at G.A.C. at 4:30. I guess I can make it if I don't put my tennis shoes on till I get into the gym and just button two buttons on my suit.

* *

"Golly, I'm glad I got out of G.A.C. in one piece. My goodness, how those kids guard! You can't move your arm but there's a guard hanging on to it. Hey! don't push me in that shower — oh — look at my hair, I'll have to put it up again tonight.
